They'll March 4,000 Strong In San Rafael Tomorrow

The heart of downtown San Rafael will be sealed off tomorrow morning to make way for the Admission Day parade with its more than 4,000 marchers, accompanying floats and bands.

Asst. Police Chief Joseph Brusatori said today parking will be banned on Fourth Street from H Street to Grand Avenue from 8 a.m. until the end of the parade early in the afternoon.

In addition, he said, the parking ban will include E, F, G, Shaver, and Ida streets within one block on either side of Fourth Street. That is where the marching units will be forming he said.

Barricades and detour signs will be placed at the Miracle Mile entrance to Fourth Street, along Fifth Avenue and Third Street from H Street to Grand Avenue, at Mission Avenue and Mary Street, Fifth Avenue and Irwin Street and Fourth and Mary streets.

Patrolmen, he said, will be placed on all corners along the parade route from 9 a.m. until its conclusion.

The parade will conclude a six-day celebration of California's 115th birthday sponsored by the Native Sons and Daughters of the Golden West.

Beginning at 10:30 a.m. its route will be from E and Fourth streets, east along Fourth Street to Grand Avenue, then north to the ground of the Marist Lane and Grand Avenue.

Theme of the parade is "Mission Trails 1769-1965," honoring the Spanish missions in California including Mission San Rafael Arcangel, 20th in a chain of 21 missions which extends from San Diego to Sonoma.

The parade will be one of the largest in Marin County's history, with more than 235 entries. There will be 19 floats, six bands, two mounted groups, marching units from Hamilton Air Force Base, the Sixth Army Presidio Band, drill team and color guard and the Weldonians from Oakland.

The Hayward Native Sons parlor has entered a 1917 fire engine in the parade; the Stockton parlor will march with its bear flag, the largest state flag in existence.

Tonight the Native Sons and Daughters will sponsor a dinner dance at Dominic's Harbor Restaurant at 8 p.m. Immediately after the parade tomorrow, the Nicasio parlor will give a barbecue at the Marist Fathers Seminary, 1675 Grand Avenue.

Courthouse Plaza, Parking Proposal Backed By Most

Report Urges Careful Design, Amendment To Zone Ordinance

Most civic, community and business leaders prefer that the county courthouse site in downtown San Rafael be converted to a public plaza or park with underground parking facilities and some carefully designed commercial or office buildings.

This was reported today to the San Rafael City Council by Daniel P. Coleman, whose engineering-planning firm was engaged to study best use for the block.

He recommended that, if the city is to control use of the land when it is sold by the county after the court facilities move to the Civic Center, the council had best pass a special amendment to the city zoning ordinance.

"No section of the present city zoning ordinance could properly control certain of the complex considerations that will be involved in the proper ultimate development of this property," Coleman's preliminary report said.

QUESTIONS OFFICIALS

Coleman said he questioned "various Marin County officials, the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce, community and business leaders" and others interested in the ultimate use of the property.

The plan most favored, his report said, calls for demolishing of the older county courthouse. The more recent annex might or might not be retained.

Suggestions included a central city park with underground parking; use of the buildings as they are today with the older building becoming a museum and the annex converted to professional and administrative office sace, and concentrated use of the entire parcel in commercial buildings.

ZONING CHANGE

In a summary of preliminary findings, the firm recommended an amendment to the zoning ordinance to insure that the following might be accomplished:

1. The courthouse block remain the focal point of downtown San Rafael.

2. Future development include a significant portion of land set aside for a public park or plaza.

3. Quasi-public facilities, such as theaters, band concert areas, open air cafes, etc., should be

Closed Circuit TV Backed For Bridge Traffic

A committee of the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District today approved installation of a closed-circuit television system for traffic surveillance on the bridge. This will require approval of the full bridge board on Friday.

The system will be installed by Motorola Communications and Electronics, Inc., at a fee of $47,120 for a five-year lease. In addition the company will charge $300 per month maintenance.

General Manager James Adam said the television system may be of limited value at night and in foggy weather now, but future improved lighting on the bridge may eventually make it possible for TV surveillance at night and possibly in fog.

One use of closed-circuit TV would be to enable speedy response in case of accidents and disabled vehicles, he said.

A San Francisco architect presented expansion plans for toll plaza modernization. Robert Tobin estimated that expanding the present administration building and making it soundproof and air conditioned would cost about $250,000.

Members of the building and operating committee indicated approval and asked that Tobin come back with another report when his full plan is complete.

Sailboats Lose Special Status

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Sailboat owners were warned by the Coast Guard today that they no longer can always claim the right of way over ocean-going ships.

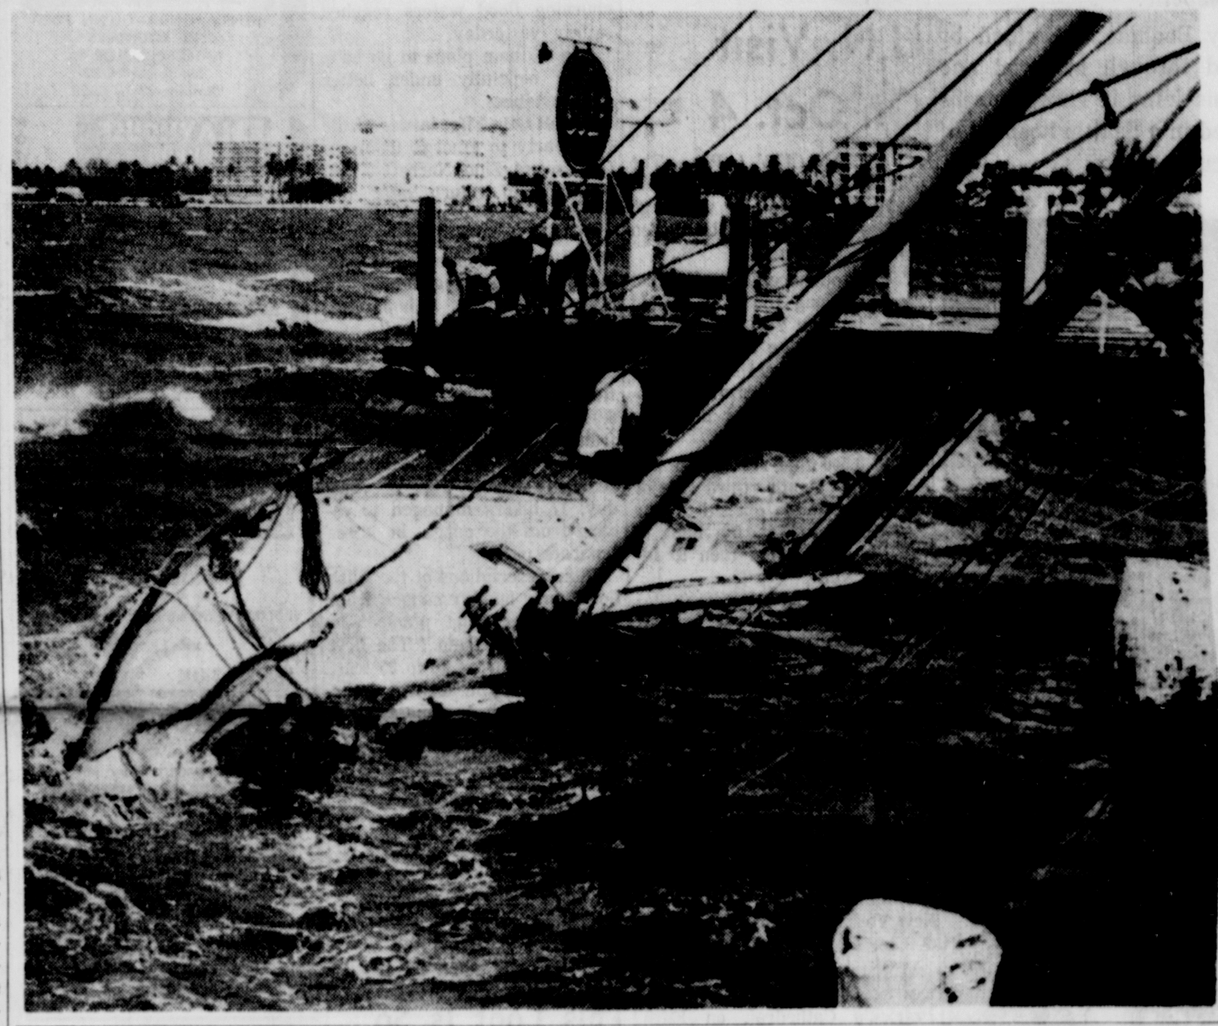
According to new International Rules of the Road, which took effect Sept. 1, the "limitations of the craft involved" must be taken into consideration.

As a result, small boats must stay out of the way of large ships which may be unable to maneuver in narrow channels or to operate outside such channels, the Coast Guard said.

BATTERED BY BETSY

A 47-foot sailing schooner, the Trouville, belonging to James Smith of Melborne, is partially sunk at the Palm Beach Yacht Club at West Palm Beach, Fla. Winds from the hurricane Betsy early today tipped the 30-foot masts over on power lines stretching the length of the dock. Men battled high winds and waves unsuccessfully trying to throw ropes around the masts to pull them off the wire. (AP Wirephoto)

Wall Of Water Smashes Florida As Betsy Hits



Hurricane's Winds At Raging 140 MPH

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Hurricane Betsy pushed a six-foot wall of water across Florida's lower east coast today — the highest since the disastrous flood of 1926 — and battered the Florida Keys with savage, 140-mile-an-hour winds.

The mighty tide, pushed by a raging east wind that followed the passage of the storm center, sent the Miami River surging out of its banks for blocks on both sides and into numerous industrial plants.

Elsewhere, the waves swamped residential islands and sent salty floods pounding down the streets of Miami, Fort Lauderdale and other cities. Water surged three feet deep in Miami's palm-lined Biscayne Boulevard.

Not since the infamous storm of 1926, which sent Miami settlers streaming back northward, had a hurricane driven so much seawater ashore.

The metropolitan areas of the Florida Gold Coast apparently escaped major damage from winds which peaked at 105 miles an hour at Miami, considerably lower than expected.

SMALLER COMMUNITIES

But word still was to come from the smaller communities along the Florida Keys over which the eye of the mighty storm passed, lashing out with 140-mile-an-hour blows.

Despite the hours-long battering of wind and waves, only one death was reported. Helen Cooper, 40, was electrocuted at Miami by a falling power line.

Fear rose, however, for nine persons believed stranded aboard three houseboats in a mangrove inlet at Ragged Key, south of Miami.

AIMING FOR GULF

As Betsy raged on westward across the narrow bottom of the Florida Peninsula, aiming for the Gulf of Mexico and the other coastlines ahead, word came that Nassau had been "stunned, shocked and badly damaged" by the hurricane.

But Etienne Dupuch, publisher of the Nassau Tribune and acting premier of the islands, said in a telegram to The Associated Press that "so far we have no casualties."

This seemed miraculous in view of the 12-hour beating the 50,000 residents of the Bahamian capital took from the storm yesterday.

Heroin Found At Prison

Security officers at San Quentin Prison have discovered high grade heroin in the prison's maintenance construction shop.

Associate Warden James W. L. Park disclosed this afternoon the discovery was made yesterday in a routine check of the shop by the security squad. Analysis today disclosed the material was heroin.

Two finger stalls (finger protectors) containing 1.42 grams of the drug were found in a bucket.

Parks said eight inmates were being questioned today and five of them show signs of recent narcotic use. About 35 inmates were questioned immediately after the cache was found.

Crash Kills Peacock Gap Instructor

James MacGowan, 21, tennis instructor this summer at Peacock Gap Country Club in San Rafael, was fatally injured early today when his car ran off the highway in San Jose.

The California Highway Patrol said MacGowan, on his way home to Carmel Valley, apparently fell asleep. His car left the Bayshore Freeway at the Lafayette overpass to Santa Clara. He died in surgery of massive head injuries.

MacGowan, a student at the University of Denver, had worked since June at Peacock Gap Country Club, where he ran the tennis shop and gave lessons.

He had finished his summer employment at Peacock Gap and was to return to the University of Denver after visiting his parents in Carmel Valley.

India Puts Troops Into Second Front

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

India invaded Pakistan 500 miles southwest of Kashmir today, capturing the village of Gadra five miles across the border. Heavy air battles broke out over East Pakistan 1,500 miles to the east and an Indian invasion appeared probable there.

Communist China renewed its threat of a new border war with India, accusing India of a series of border violations and demanding the withdrawal of Indian military installations and armed forces from the border area. Yesterday it declared its full support for Pakistan.

India reported the first Pakistan air raid on New Delhi but said there was no damage. A Pakistan spokesman said the report was a "complete lie."

A UPI dispatch from Dacca, the capital of East Pakistan near the borders of Burma, said Pakistani air force planes drove off attacking Idnian planes and then bombed Indian air bases nearby destroying 13 jet planes. The Pakistanis already had claimed destruction of 60 Indian planes.

Most of the free world and the Soviet Union were trying to halt the undeclared war they believed would benefit only Peking. In Geneva Secretary General Thant of the United Nations told newsmen he was taking "certain suggestions" to both sides. He left New York last night for Karachi and New Delhi.

Fighting raged on land, sea and air. Pakistan claimed it had destroyed 60 Indian planes — one-fifth of the entire Indian air

Grand Jury Indicts Silverthorne For Misusing Bank's $1 Million

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Former bank president Don C. Silverthorne was indicted today on charges of misapplying more than $1 million in funds of the government-closed San Francisco National Bank.

Broker William S. Bennett was jointly and separately charged with accepting $700,000 in fees to arrange loans for the defunct bank of which Silverthorne was president.

U.S. District Judge George B. Harris ordered bench warrants issued. He set bail at $10,000 each.

The indictments were the last true bills returned by a federal grand jury which has been investigating the bankruptcy of the bank since June 16. The jury was discharged.

Silverthorne, 61, graying and portly, was accused in one indictment on 36 counts of misapplication of bank funds. U.S. Attorney Cecil Poole told the judge "deflacations of over $1 million" were involved in these and other counts.

The banker was also accused of making false statements to the comptroller of currency when he organized the bank.

The bank's deposits totaled $37.6 million when it was declared insolvent Jan. 22 by Comptroller James J. Saxon.

Silverthorne was organizer, president and chairman of the board of San Francisco National when it opened in June, 1962.

He was accused by the grand jury of falsely telling the comptroller he had a net worth which he did not really have.

Two other counts against Silverthorne were that he made false entries into bank records to conceal "misapplication or embezzlement."

He was accused of general conspiracy in conspiring with James Patrick Hill of the James Hill Co. to misapply $5,413 of the funds of the San Francisco National Bank.

The indictment jointly naming Silverthorne and Bennett included 30 separate counts.

In overt acts, the indictment charged 11 separate transactions involving fee payments. These alleged that during a conspiracy Bennett received payments exceeding $700,000 for arranging loans and remitted to Silverthorne more than $400,000.

Specifically the indictment cites federal law making it an offense for a person to accept a gratuity for making a bank loan.

Sausalito Council Modifies Public Nuisance Ordinance

A significantly modified nuisance ordinance will go before the Sausalito City Council for a vote next week following lengthly discussion at the council meeting last night.

Deadlocks on two of the ordinance provisions were broken when Councilman Alexander R. Imlay, who was absent at the Aug. 3 meeting when the ordinance was up for passage, suggested two compromises to go for a vote next week.

The provision calling for the outlawing of the possession of an open alcoholic container in a public park or street should be changed to prohibit "consumption" of any alcoholic beverage "other than beer or wine" in such places, suggested Imlay.

Forwarding the cause of personal rights, Councilmen Melvin S. Wax and Eleanor O. Chapin maintained there was no need for and additional legisla-

Bid To Kill Wife Charged Again

TACOMA, Wash. (AP) — For the second time in less than four years, Dr. Robert E. Boehme, a handsome small-town physician, has been charged with trying to poison his wife.

Boehme

Both charges were of first-degree assault with intent to kill.

The first, on which he was acquitted after a sensational 16-day trial in 1962, involved his first wife, Dorothy, who later died of meningitis.

Mary

Mary Boehme was hospitalized here after a plank fell and fractured her skull at the family boathouse June 29. She returned home after extensive treatment.

Injections also figured in that case. Dr. Boehme was accused of trying to poison his first wife in a Bremerton hospital on the pretext of taking a blood sample. She was a diabetic.

Dorothy Boehme, 35, stood by her husband through his trial and testified in his defense. Three months later she died in a Seattle hospital of staphylococcus meningitis.

Waters said he would not pull out of the race if Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel becomes a candidate. Both he and Kuchel supported New York Gov. Rockefeller.

B-52 Bombers Make 20th Viet Strike

SAIGON (UPI) -- U. S. Air Force B-52 bombers, making their 20th strike of the war, today raided a known Communist hideout about 20 miles north of Saigon.

The big eight-engine jets saturated the area with tons of bombs while thousands of American Marines and South Vietnamese pressed a hammer-and-anvil assault against a suspected Viet Cong stronghold 20 miles south of Chu Lai.

The offensive began yesterday and continued into the night. Troops met only light small arms resistance during the early stages of the mission on the five mile wide Ba Lang An Peninsula 345 miles northeast of Saigon.

The area is only five miles from last month's big Marine victory on the Van Tuong Peninsula which killed 600 Communist guerrillas.

The target of today's B52 raid was in the vincinity of Ben Cat, an area of guerrilla strength close to the first B52 attack last June.

Pope Plans U.N. Visit On Oct. 4

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Vatican press office announced today Pope Paul VI would go to New York to visit the United Nations on Oct. 4.

The announcement did not say how long the Pope would spend in New York on the first papal trip to the United States. But the director of the Vatican newspaper L'Osservatore Romano said he would be there only one day.

The 8,500-mile round trip will be Pope Paul's third major voyage since he opened a new era of papal travel by flying to the Holy Land and then to India last year.

He is expected to go again by air, leaving Rome on Sunday Oct. 3, and spending the next day in New York. Presumably he will fly back overnight to be in Rome Tuesday morning. In this way he will be gone a minimum amount of time while the Vatican Ecumenical Council is holding its final session.

Raimondo Manzini, director of L'Osservatore Romano, told newsmen the Pope would attend a major religious service in New York City on the afternoon of Oct. 4.

Vatican sources said the service would probably be in St. Patrick's Cathedral, on Fifth Avenue. It presumably will be the Pope's main activity outside of his attendance at a session the U.N. General Assembly.

He is expected to make a major peace appeal before the assembly.

SHERIFF OTTO FIFE

Last Of 42 Stranded Hikers Safe

ZION NATIONAL PARK, Utah (UPI) — The last of 42 hikers stranded in a cave by churning flood waters reached saftety yesterday.

One of them plans to go back — but hopefully under better circumstances.

Sheriff Otto Fife, leader of the final party to emerge from the flood-swept Zion Narrows, said he plans to return later this month.

"I have a tour schedule Sept. 28 for eight or nine people," he said after reaching safety. "I still intend to go. I hope this won't scare them away."

Fife's nine-member party, including an injured hiker and five boys ranging in age from 6 to 9, made it to the park entrance to the narrows about three hours after 16 others reached safety. The previous day, 17 hikers managed to escape from the gorge in three separate parties.

Their descriptions of the flash flood early Sunday ranged from sounding "like jet planes" to "like a freight train." The first crest ranged from 10 to 35 feet, depending on the section of the narrows, which in some spots a hiker can touch both sides.

The injured hiker was Allen Keller of Orem, Utah, who suffered a deep gash and bruises on his left leg when hit by a log tumbling aimlessly in the rain-swollen Virgin River which carved the narrows ages ago. He was hanging onto a tree in chest-high water with his two sons.

This Loot Is So Hot It Will Melt

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—How do you store a cold cache of hot ice cream?

San Francisco police are looking for thieves who have that problem. Eight thousand ice cream bars were among the loot taken in a burglary of the Crown Vending Co.

The thieves broke into the company Sunday night and swiped a delivery truck filled with $5,000 worth of cigarettes, candy and the ice cream bars.

Judge Says Negroes Believe Police Foes

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A Superior Court judge says all Negroes in the county believe policemen discriminate against them while enforcing the law.

Judge Richard F. C. Hayden, addressing Town Hall yesterday, added: "and it is a not quite universal belief (among Negroes) that actual instances of cruelty exist."

The jurist said he was "not speaking as to the truth in back of the belief. But beliefs are important social facts, whether true or false."

He said that while recommendations have been made toward improving police-community relations, there is no policy for reviewing complaints against police officers "and nothing is being done about it."

Judge Hayden said he considered it significant that no riot occurred in Compton, where, he said, the "police force has been working more vigorously (on race relations) than most other police departments."

In Municipal Court yesterday, Judge Armond M. Jewell dismissed assault charges against 19 alleged members of the Black Muslim sect. They were arrested last Aug. 18 when police stormed the Muslim Mosque on South Broadway after receiving a report weapons were being carried inside.

Judge Jewell, after a week-long preliminary hearing, ruled there was insufficient evidence to establish that any shots were fired from inside the mosque.

Judge Jewell noted that the officers had been on duty for a long period, and that the mosque was surrounded by officers, many of whom were firing weapons.

"It wouldn't take much imagination for a person, seeing reflections of light and hearing sounds of fire, to believe he was being fired upon," Judge Jewell said.

Plane To Land Like Helicopter

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A combination aircraft that will take-off and land like a helicopter but have the stability of a fixed-wing plane in flight has been designed for the Army, Lockheed-California Co. announced yesterday.

The plane will have a single jet engine to power both its rotor system and a pusher propellor in the tail.

The two-man craft would be used to fly air support missions and to escort larger, troop-carrying helicopters, a Lockheed-California Co. spokesman said. The company's design is being studied by the Army, he added.

TRESSES TRIMMED FOR SCHOOL

Russ Expected Soon To Best Gemini 5

By GENE BYLINSKY
Progress Reports Writer

WASHINGTON — U.S. experts expect the Russians to try soon to best the record-shattering Gemini 5 flight with an attempt at linking up two manned spaceships and staying a month in orbit.

That such an attempt hasn't been made yet is something of a surprise, these sources say. It may be an equipment problem.

There is no indication the Russians have the on-board computers, radar, in-orbit propulsion, and sensitive ground tracking equipment being tested on Gemini to effect a rendezvous in space.

For long duration flights presumably they also would have to use fuel cells of the type flown on Gemini 5. Fuel cells provide significant weight and power-producing advantages over conventional batteries, but the Soviets so far have relied on the latter.

If a Soviet linkup attempt succeeds—and their scientists have been saying all along that a space rendezvous is on their agenda—the new space spectacular in the eyes of laymen would leave this country far behind in the great space race. The U.S. won't attempt a similar feat for three years. In terms of man-hours in space, the Russians again would surge far ahead.

But American space engineers are far less impressed with transitory records in space—Russian or their own. All along, U. S. officials have said that no single flight or achievement in space will establish either country's leadership in the new realm.

They feel that can come only by developing "total" space technology—the ability to undertake any type of mission.

The United States is building up this capability as it concentrates on landing men on the moon before the end of 1969.

The Russians, in contrast, appear to be trying to master space near the earth first. They may leap to the moon and the planets, by assembling lunar and interplanetary ships in orbit.

The U.S. scheme of reaching for the moon first and then concentrating on extensive operations in earth orbit may prove to be the winning one. But there are some U.S. spacemen who would have preferred the Soviet route.

"If this world were more simple, from the technical standpoint it would have made more sense to go from earth to near earth and then to the moon," says a space agency scientist.

However, much of the Apollo lunar hardware can be used for extended flights in earth orbit. With modifications the moonship can be flown as a three-man space station for 45 days and longer, for instance.

In this context, the expected month-long orbital flight by Soviet cosmonauts will not mean to U.S. space specialists that Russia is winning the race to the moon. It will mean that it is mastering the technology to explore space near earth ahead of the U.S.

In the end, perhaps only three to five years from now, the two approaches may converge and the two countries will be truly abreast in space exploration.

As of now, the Russians continue to fly bigger useful payloads than the U.S. Russia's unmanned Proton I cosmic research satellite weighs 27,000 pounds and was placed in orbit by a rocket with an estimated thrust of 2.5 million pounds.

But the U.S., with Gemini, is pushing ahead in rendezvous techniques. Gemini 6 will try a linkup with an unmanned Agena satellite in October.

The U.S. is building — and ground-testing — bigger rockets, including the 8.7 million-pound-thrust Saturn V Apollo booster —but none have been flown yet.

The Russians with flights last year and earlier this year have just begun testing their three-man Voskhod spaceships which they claim can stay up for a month at a time. This country, on the other hand, will be pushing the Gemini spacecraft to its endurance limit when it flies it for two weeks in the coming months.

A limiting factor in the Gemini is the use of pure oxygen. Scientists suspect it's not safe for spacemen to breathe pure oxygen for longer than a month.

The Russians from the beginning have been using a "two-gas" spaceship atmosphere of nitrogen and oxygen—in effect pure air. They have also flown three cosmonauts without spacesuits.

This country is yet to develop a "two-gas" system. There are plans to use such an atmosphere in the Air Force's manned orbiting laboratory which will start flying in 1968. Air Force astronauts also will work in shirt-sleeves in the space lab.

Some U.S. scientists think the Soviets have chosen the earth orbital route to space exploration because they don't want to build massive rockets the size of a Saturn V.

But speculation that the Soviets will stop at an arbitrary rocket size have proved false in the past.

Beer Flows Near Posh D.C. Homes

By Advance News Service

WASHINGTON—The rock and roll bands now blare into the night and beer flows by the keg in Washington's Georgetown section, the one-time preserve of the wealthy, the self-styled chic and the new frontier.

But a neon galaxy, rock and roll and tipsy teens are not the idea of fun for the many congressmen and VIP's living in Georgetown. War has been declared on the strip from Capitol Hill.

The latest to jump into the fight is Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., who introduced a bill to raise the Washington legal age for drinking beer and wine to 21. The limit is now 18.

Scott lives one block north of M Street, amid where the younger set parks its cars on evenings, returns not quite sober a few hours later and drag races into the early morning.

Georgetowners like Scott who may pay huge sums for their quaint federal-style homes are clearly fed up with it all.

"We're all getting tired of the raucous shindigs," Scott said.

The problem is not so much with youngsters living in Washington but those streaming in from Maryland and Virginia suburbs where the drinking age is 21.

If Congress raises the Washington drinking age to 21, the congressmen figure the M Street problem will dry up.

Scott said "get - rich - quick saloonkeepers will not risk their money if they realize we are going to push this bill."

Aiso located on the street are a few of the city's more "in" restaurants and discotheques where the town's social leaders have done the frug into the wee hours.

INDIA

force. India claimed it destroyed 21 Pakistani planes and said "our own losses have been substantially less."

India accused Pakistan of "further escalating" the war by bombarding the port of Dwarka near Bombay.

Indian Defense Minister Y. B. Chavan, speaking in New Delhi, confirmed that Indian forces crossed the Indo-Pakistan border in the Barmar section of the Indian desert state of Rajasthan and has advanced five miles into Pakistan and about 95 miles from Hyderabad. Hyderabad is 100 miles east of Karachi.

Chavan also disclosed that Indian troops had surged across the Pakistan border from the Kashmir city of Jammu but gave no figures. He said the border crossing in the Lahore-Amritsar sector had achieved its immediate objective of relieving Pakistan pressure in Kashmir.

The hint of an invasion of East Pakistan came when he said Indian troops had massed near the border to meet the threat of a Pakistani attack. This is across India from West Pakistan, a distance of about 1,500 miles.

In Washington, American officials expressed doubt today that Red China would intervene in the Kashmir war despite Peking's bitter condemnation of India and expression of unlimited support of Pakistan.

But the White House and State Department were keeping a wary eye on the situation along the disputed Chinese - Indian border in the Sikkim area. Peking might logically be expected to strike there if the Communists should decide to enter the battle on behalf of Pakistan.

U.S. officials said Peking's declarations had an omnious note which appeared to provide a political basis for military action if that was the course Red China decided to follow.

However, they were more inclined to believe that in the Kashmir fight, as in Viet Nam, Red China preferred to remain physically aloof while exploiting the conflict for its political advatage.

overhead power lines which knocked out electric service to 80 per cent of Miami and Fort Lauderdale customers.

House trailers were smashed and there was the other inevitable wind debris in the hurricane's wake — shattered windows, fallen signs, utility poles and trees.

Canals interlacing Fort Lauderdale surged out of their banks and put several luxury apartment islands under water. On the seaside at Hollywood, the tide chewed out a portion of the east wall of the big luxury hotel, The Diplomat.

High water and toppled telephone poles blocked U.S. Highway 1 at Florida City, cutting the only land access route to the hard-hit Florida Keys. The Tamiami Trail, crossing Florida from Miami to Naples on the Gulf Coast was laced with fallen trees.

The sea heaped sand dunes up on Highway A1A, which runs from Miami northward near the beach, and in some sections the road was broken by the tides.

Courthouse Report Has Plaza Favored encouraged in any future development.

4. The site should include public parking facilities for at least 150 cars in addition to parking area for new uses developed on the site.

5. The site should be planned and developed as a single coordinated unit.

6. The architecture should be carefully controlled and should reflect the cultural heritage of the community.

7. In addition to a public plaza and parking facilities, the land use might include general commercial uses, office buildings, institutional use and hotel and convention facilities.

8. The inclusion of a high rise building should be considered if significant public park areas would result.

9. A maximum return to the County of Marin from the sale of the property should be realized consistent with all the considerations listed above.

The report pointed out that a rapid zoning and sale of the property was vital from the county's point of view and suggested the ideal solution would be for a public entity or nonprofit corporation to get control over the property and hold it until it was properly financed and planned.

Hotel On I-J Land Suggested

Should the Independent-Journal go into the hotel business?

That is a question raised by Marin County Supervisor Thomas T. Storer, who suggests that the San Rafael City Hall property, bought by the I-J recently for expansion, would serve as a hotel site.

Storer made the suggestion in a letter to C. Paul Bettini, mayor of San Rafael, on the development of the downtown and the sale of the county courthouse.

"It would be most interesting to me," Storer wrote, "if the Independent-Journal would contemplate a hotel site on this property (city hall land) in which the newspaper would have space along with the Radio Station KTIM, and the hotel would have restaurant and convention facilities.

Terms under which the Independent-Journal purchased the city hall property require that the major portion of it become a public parking lot when the present city hall is razed, and remain so until 1973.

Berkeley Registration Expected To Hit Limit

BERKELEY (UPI)— An expected 27,500 students will register for fall classes at the University of California beginning Monday, Sept. 20.

Stereo Cases Found

Ruth B. Hall of 15 First Street, San Rafael, told police last night she found two stereo receiver cases, one containing a radio and one empty, in her garage. She said she did not know where they came from. Police suspect they are stolen property.

The City of Gilroy in Santa Clara County was named for John Gilroy, Scotch sailor who was put ashore at Monterey in 1814 by the Hudson's Bay Co. ship Isaac Todd.

DISORDER

tion if the existing police force would enforce laws presently on the books.

"Our problem is in the park, right here in front of the police station," said Wax. "If the police are there, excessive drinking and disorderly conduct will not go on, but if they do, the police can easily use existing laws to stop it. I don't think its necessary to pick up someone just because he's got an open bottle with him."

Mayor Jan Paul Dyk retorted: "Your suggestion would work if we could afford to have someone right there all the time. The police chief, in asking for this ordinance, is merely trying to answer the concern of our community over the deteriorating use of the public park." Councilman Earl F. Dunphy agreed with the mayor.

Councilman Chapin retorted, "Just because the people are concerned with the problem doesn't mean that the police are enforcing our present laws."

Imlay's so-called compromise, agreed to by Wax and Mrs. Chapin, indicated a majority vote and the mayor gave instructions for revision of the ordinance, to be reintroduced next meeting.

A second provision of the proposed ordinance, calling for the outlawing of skateboards and other, similar devices, received the qualified support of Councilman Imlay, breaking another Dyk-Dunphy versus Chapin-Wax deadlock.

"I would vote for the provision," said Imlay, "Children should not be allowed to use skateboards because they are an obvious hazard to public health and safety. But the phrase, 'other devices,' ought to be taken out. That would be too vague for police enforcement."

The altered provision, outlawing only skateboards, will also be presented to the council at the next meeting.

Agricultural Land Preserves Gain

By RICHARD LYTTLE

Steps to create Marin's first agricultural preserve were taken yesterday by county supervisors in a resolution of intention on the 600-acre Green Gulch Ranch in the county's southern hills.

Supervisors hoped the action will encourage other ranchers to make use of the California land Conservation Act, a rancher my avoid fast rising land assessments brought on by the development potential of his property. Assessments will be made only on the basis of the value of the property as agricultural land if owner agrees to withhold it from development.

Yesterday's action was prompted by George W. and Hope L. Wheelwright, owners of Green Gulch Ranch who have already signed an agreement to place their land in an agricultural preserve as soon as the preserve is created.

The board of supervisors unanimously passed a resolution of intention to create the preserve. The county planning commission will hold hearings on it.

Under the Land Conservation Act, the owner signs a contract agreeing to use the property for ranching only for 10 years. This contract comes up for renewal each year, but if the rancher seeks to terminate before the 10 years is up he must pay half the assessed value of the land.

County Farm Adviser Winston Engvall said ranchers are only waiting for the act to take effect to take advantage of it.

Although Chairman Peter H. Behr said that only 4 per cent of the county's total assessed value comes under the heading of agricultural land, all supervisors were enthusiastic over the possibility of preserving open areas.

Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker said that the county assessor, through raising appraisals of property, probably does more indirect land planning than anyone in the county.

"This is the first step in altering that course," he said.

Parents Get Praise For Library Job

They worked during the recess, reported Supt. Marshall J. McCunniff, to transfer the library from a wooden shack to bigger premises they renovated from a former office area.

"Without the hard work of parents and other interested people," he said, "it would have cost us a great deal of money."

McCunniff reported three portable classrooms will be ready by the time school opens Monday. They will accommodate about 75 pupils who, until now, have had to use the school's multi-purpose room.

The classrooms will serve temporarily until another school can be built, he said. The 490 children who will attend school next week is an increase of 70 over last year, McCunniff reported.

Probation Given In Burglary Case

Dallas Wray Morgan, 19, was given two years probation yesterday in Marin Superior Court on his guilty plea to burglary of the automobile of Ronald M. Patten at Bermuda Palms in San Rafael last May 22.

Morgan, of 45 Harte Avenue, San Rafael, also was ordered by Judge Thomas F. Keating to make $150 damage restitution.

False Fire Alarm Culprit Is Nabbed

GROTON, Conn. (AP) — Police nabbed without trouble the culprit who turned in two false alarms here.

"He was waving to the firemen when they drove up," police said. They said an unidentified 5-year-old boy reached the fire alarm boxes either by standing on his wagon or a tricycle.

OLD STORY: CHILDREN AND MATCHES— Smoke hangs over Almonte homes as fire burns atop grassy knoll, threatening 15 homes in the area. Newspaper Mergers Disclosed

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Merger of San Francisco's three daily newspapers into a single production operation with two newspapers was reported today.

Details were discussed last night at a meeting of publishers' representatives and unions involved.

Publisher spokesmen were not available for comment.

Union leaders refused to talk. But they reported to special meetings last night.

Specifics were contained in posted minutes of a meeting of San Francisco Chronicle printers. They said:

The three newspapers — Hearst's Examiner and News Call Bulletin and the independent Chronicle — will form the San Francisco Printing Co.

The Examiner, now a morning newspaper, will publish six days in the afternoon field. It may be known as the Examiner-News Call Bulletin.

The Chronicle will publish six days a week in the morning.

A common Sunday edition will bear the masthead of both the Examiner and the Chronicle.

All facilities of the three newspapers will be pooled except for the editorial departments.

The first daily editions under the planned merger will be Monday. The first combined Sunday edition will be Sept. 19.

The three newspapers will terminate their payrolls Saturday, with the new corporation taking over payrolls on Sunday.

Each newspaper pressroom will be used but composing room facilities will be concentrated in the Chronicle.

Marin Property Tax $37 Million

The total Marin County property tax bill will be $37,800,729 in fiscal 1966, compared with $33,656,618 last year, County Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell told the board of supervisors yesterday.

Of the total, 58 per cent will support schools, 23.6 per cent will go to county government, 9.4 per cent will go to city government and 9 per cent to special districts.

Last year the division was 58.3 per cent to schools, 24.7 per cent to the county, 8.7 per cent to the cities and 8.3 per cent to special districts. There is one more city (Tiburon) levying taxes this year.

Mitchell also reported on various tax code areas, giving examples of total rates to be levied.

Taking average code areas, his figures show that Corte Madera residents will generally have the highest rate, paying a total of $11.55 per $100 assessed valuation in school, county ,town and special district taxes. Novato is close behind with a total rate of $11.105.

San Rafael residents will have the total lowest tax rate among city dwellers with $8.965.

West Marin residents will have the lowest rate of all, $6.360.

Taking specific code areas, however, Mitchell's figures show even more extremes.

The highest rate to be paid in the county will be $12.605 in the Scottsdale section of Novato. Special city taxes there alone come to $2.42 including $1.50 for city maintenance assessment, 24 cents for parks and 30 cents for land acquisition.

Mitchell's figures revealed two cases of double taxation.

A small section of Corte Madera on Paradise Drive is levied a 58-cent tax by the Tiburon Fire District in addition to the town taxes which include fire protection. The bulk of this land belongs to Pacific Gas and Electric Co. and Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. Mitchell told the board he had called the situation to the attention of the Corte Madera town manager. However, it is too late to make any correction this year.

In the same situation is a portion of the city of Novato with a total assessed value of $448,580 which is taxed 18 cents by the Novato Lighting District in addition to paying the city tax which includes street lighting. Mitchell said this occured when the territory was annexed to the city without exclusion from the lighting district.

Lowest total tax in the county is $4.4835 on the Point Reyes peninsula. A code area near Tomales has a total tax of $5.40.

Classroom Juggling Due Novato

The painters strike and other delays last summer will cause Novato Unified School District to do some juggling of students during the first week of school, Supt. James G. Bunker reported to the board of trustees last night.

Classes will be juggled at the new Pleasant Valley School, the high school and Loma Verde School.

In the new Pleasant Valley School, classes will start in unfinished classrooms and move around as the rooms are finished, Bunker told the board.

"The two kindergartens, administration rooms and library are finished, and five or six classrooms should be by the first of the week," he said.

At the high school, six portable classrooms which were promised for the start of school by Speedspace Corp. of Santa Rosa, have been moved onto the site, but are not set up yet, Bunker reported. Classes may have to shift around for a few days, he said.

At Loma Verde School, four new classrooms will not be ready for about a week, Bunker said. However, only two of them are needed at once.

Grass Fire Threatens 15 Homes In Almonte

Twenty-mile per hour winds swept flames almost to 15 homes in Almonte yesterday afternoon in a grass and brush fire believed to have been caused by children playing with matches.

I was the fifth such fire in the Tamalpais Fire Department area since a 100-acre fire Aug. 24 on Throckmorton Ridge.

Seven acres of grass, including quanities of Scotch broom, were blackened in the fire which began above Dolan Avenue and worked its way rapidly up hill to Cleveland Court, Cleveland Avenue and Green Street. First call to firemen was at 2:11 p.m.

The garden at the fire-threatened home of Vandim Pogojeff, 263 Cleveland Avenue, was destroyed. Many persons along Cleveland Avenue and some on Green Street wetted down grass and exterior walls of their homes.

Fireman Jerry Collins urged parents to caution their children against playing with matches, saying that winds are high and grass extremely dry this time of year.

"A grass fire is not like a house fire," he said. "It can take 10 or 20 houses, not just one."

Folk Dance Class Set In Mill Valley

Painters Seek To Settle Feud

George R. Scott, treasurer of Painters Local 83 of San Rafael, said today he will ask a visiting troubleshooter for the International Brotherhood of Painters and Paperhangers to transfer his local out of District Council 8 in San Francisco and into District Council 16 in Oakland.

Scott said Al King, organizer for the international, is in the Bay Area, seeking an end to the feud between Local 83 and the district council.

Scott said he would probably confer with King today and that one of the things he would ask is a transfer to another district council. "We've taken a vote on that in the local and that's what the fellows seem to want to do."

Synanon Given Its Use Permit

After a delay of two weeks, Marin County Supervisors yesterday approved a use permit for Synanon Foundation's narcotic addict treatment center in the Marconi building at Marshall.

The action came after Synanon submited a list of repairs that will be made to conform to the building code.

The list includes raising head clearance in hallways on the third floor of the main building, providing a separate circuit for lighting stairways and exits, providing each of the third floor bedrooms with windows or skylights, building one-hour fire protection into bedroom walls, installing fire extinguishers, add two exit doors, a stairway and two balconies for easy exit from the main building, and bringing electrical outlets up to code.

Supervisors two weeks ago agreed to grant a permit to Synanon if the foundation took out a building permit to make the corrections. The corrections proved so extensive, however, that the permit was delayed due to the need for architects drawings.

Poles To Be Removed Without Cost To City

Those high, wire-laden utility poles will be removed from the center island of widened Second Street, without cost to the City of San Rafael.

The change was offered last night by George M. Henderson, district superintendent of Pacific Gas and Electric Co., to the San Rafael City Council. It resolved a dispute which found Public Works Director Norris M. Rawles claiming the pole line was the result of "a series of compromises" with PG&E and being told by Councilman Fred E. Jensen that "the council makes compromises; you don't."

The poles in question — eight of them — are in what formerly was the strip between Second Street and West End Avenue, between Ida and Marquard streets. With extension and widening of Second Street, it became center island of a divided street.

There were complaints last week when PG&E began replacing the eight poles with higher ones, slightly relocated.

Rawles told the council last night that PG&E did not change the poles, "they just moved them two feet."

Rawles was criticized by Jensen and Councilman Harry A. Barbier for failure to inform the council of his conversation with PG&E regarding the line.

Henderson then rose to offer a solution.

He said that, because the poles carry two high-voltage transmission lines serving San Anselmo and Fairfax, two rows of "streamlined" poles would be necessary. One of these could be put on each side of the street, eliminating all poles from the center island. They would carry street lights, and service connections from them could be put underground without digging up any part of the new street. Five metal poles on each side of the street would replace the eight tall wooden ones now down the center. The poles would be like those installed on the easterly extension of Third Street.

City Atty. David Menary Jr. immediately prepared an amendment to the city's utility undergrounding ordinance, including the stretch of Second Street in the district where underground service lines are required. The council promptly passed the amendment to print.

Mill Valley Community Center Gets Donation

Checks totaling $400 were presented to the City of Mill Valley at the city council meeting last night, the sum to be used to buy furniture for the community and youth center.

The money was presented to Vice Mayor Albert E. White by Vincent Wells, representing the Mill Valley Oddfellows Lodge and from Mrs. Alma Hicks, for the Mill Valley Rebekahs.

No Park Meeting

Committee Releases Immigration Measure

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Everett M. Dirksen's legislative reapportionment amendment and President Johnson's immigration bill came out of the Senate Judiciary Committee together today.

Dirksen's proposed constitutional amendment to overcome the Supreme Court's one-man, one-vote decision was reported to the Senate without recommendation by a 9-7 vote.

The administration bill to abolish the national origins quota system of immigration was approved by a 14-2 vote.

At a judiciary committee meeting last week, after members deadlocked 8-8 on the reapportionment amendment, Dirksen blocked action on the immigration bill.

At today's meeting, Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., broke the deadlock by voting to report out Dirksen's proposed amendment, although Dodd reiterated his opposition to it and predicted its rejection by the Senate.

Dirksen's amendment would permit factors other than population to be taken into account in apportioning one house of a state legislature if the people approved in a referendum.

In advance of today's committee meeting, Dirksen had indicated he had assurances his new proposal would be sent to the Senate. He said he was prepared to continue his blockade of the immigration measure unless his proposal was cleared.

Dirksen said he will seek a showdown on his revised version next January.

The immigration bill, a top priority part of the President's legislative program for this session of Congress, was approved by the full committee with an amendment putting a ceiling for the first time on immigration from Western Hemisphere nations.

Ex-Presidents To Get Guard

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Lifetime Secret Service protection for former Presidents and up to four years of protection for their widows and younger children has been authorized by Congress.

The House yesterday compiled congressional action on the legislation after being told of threats to the lives of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower and the two children of Mrs. John F. Kennedy.

The bill was sent to the White House for President Johnson's signature.

Bicycle Strippers Caught In The Act

Shirley H. Gaulden of 30 Novato Street, Apt. 309, San Rafael, told police yesterday she found three boys in the apartment's heating room, stripping the bicycle she stores there.

She gave police the name of one 12-year-old boy she recognized. He said he was in the room with two other boys his age but denied that they touched the bike. Police planned to question the other boys today.

Physician, Family Die In Air Crash

PUEBLA, Mexico (UPI)—The president of the California Flying Physicians Assn., his wife and two of their daughters were killed in a plane crash in a remote village in Southern Mexico, authorities reported yesterday.

The dead were identified by authorities as Dr. Alfred Lyman Cook, 49, Downey; his wife, Pearl, 49, and their daughters, Jeanine Marie, 14, and Charlene Annette, 12.

The couple's two other daughters, Margurette Catherine, 26, and Pearl Jeannette, 22, are believed married and living in Southern California.

Dr. Arthur DeNio of Long Beach, a past president of the association, said Cook and his family had attended the Aug. 22 convention of the organization at Miami, Fla.

Sackful Of Money Calmly Lifted From Store Shelf

Theft of a sack containing an estimated $1,770 cash for money tills of the Corner Market in Tiburon was belatedly reported today by sheriff's officers.

Fred Mantegani, co-owner of the store at 1690 Tiburon boulevard, said the Tiburon National Bank sack containing three smaller sacks was simply lifted off a checking counter about an hour before the Saturday 9 a.m. opening hour, and disappeared.

He said it contained about $500 cash for each of three market registers, and an additional $270 cash belonging to the store's meat section, owned by Everett Thomas.

A lone check in the bag was for $50, Mantegani said.

The sack and contents were taken to the store about 7:15 a.m. by George Mantegani, co-owner, and placed on the No. 1 checking stand counter, Fred Mantegani said. He said front doors were locked, but a small rear door is customarily open for wholesale food suppliers to enter with their products for the day.

Several suppliers and nearby workers who sometimes enter the rear door to purchase soft drinks or bread rolls before regular opening hours were in the store prior to the theft, he said.

The loss was first noticed by Aldo Campagna, a partner in the store's liquor department.

Sheriff's Inspector Harold V. Sleezer, who said the report apparently was not submitted by investigating deputies until yesterday or today, said no trace of the bags or money had been found at noon today.

He said investigation will include questioning of several of the wholesale food suppliers and employees.

SUPERVISORS FACE SEWER PROBLEMS

Board Agrees To Stick By Geronimo Plan; Deadline Set Of Report Of Waldo Point

Marin County Supervisors spent the bulk of yesterday afternoon talking about sewers and sewage disposal.

The board agreed to stick by the San Geronimo Master Plan, which calls for septic tanks in the single residential areas, and set a Nov. 15 progress rearline on the development of a forced assessment district to provide sewer lines at Waldo Point.

Representatives of the San Francisco Bay Region Water Pollution Control Board were present for much of the discussion and explained policies of their board. However, they left before supervisors got into full discussion of San Geronimo Valley.

Control board president Grant Burton said the San Geronimo Valley issue will be considered at a Sept. 16 hearing before his board in Oakland.

The control board's staff will recommend against septic tanks. The San Geronimo Master Plan was adopted with septic tanks as an "inherent" part of the low-density areas.

Stephen J. McKee of Lagunitas Development Co., which holds a large part of the valley, declared that it was never thought septic tanks would be used for the new high school or for multiple and commercial developments.

Asst. County Administrator John F. Barrows, advising the board in the absence of vacationing Administrator Alan Bruce, suggested supervisors ask the control board to allow initial septic tank development and point to the fact that the county is seeking a sewage master plan which will cover the septic tank feasibility.

Barrows told the board that $40,000 budgeted for the county-wide sewage study appeared now to be too small to pay for the job.

Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker said he would rather see the study deferred until more money could be allocated. No decision was made on this.

The board set the Nov. 15 deadline for completion of legal work on the forced assessment district in the Sausalito-Marin City District. B. C. Albritton, engineer for the district, said the county will have to adopt a firm stand in forcing arks and house boats to run connector lines to the main trunk when it is built. Supervisors said they had already agreed to this.

Albritton said the line could be completed about six months after the legal work is finished.

The Marin County Board Of Supervisors Also:

1. Asked that the guest book for the Civic Center be moved from the county clerk's office to the main entrance.
2. Agreed not to meet Oct. 12, Columbus Day.
3. Voted to offer the San Rafael bus line $105 a month subsidy for continuing service to the Civic Center. Cecil J. Allen, owner of the line, had asked $300. The $105 was the estimate of cost to the county if it provided the service.
4. Adjusted boundaries on a four-mile front between the San Rafael Sanitation District and Ross Valley Sanitary District. The mutual exchanges of territory, approved by the Marin County Local Agency Formation Commission, involve 90 acres. The switch creates a boundary more logical in terms of topography and existing lines, Barrows said.
5. Approved the Oceana Marina addition to the Dillon Beach Lighting District.
6. Delayed until next Tuesday discussion of Bruce's report on functions and organization of county committees and commissions.
7. Changed the name of Stanford Avenue in Tamalpais Valley to Dolan Avenue off Shoreline Highway. The unconnected section of Stanford on the bluff above will continue under that name.
8. Approved development plans for the Village Baptist Church at Drake Avenue and Park Circle in Marin City.
9. Approved the 51-acre Seacape subdivision with 60 lots on Shoreline Highway, about 600 feet from the coast. Miwok Corp. is the developer.
10. Delayed use permit approval for Booker Carter to keep a house trailer on holidays and weekends off Balboa Avenue in Inverness Park. Supervisors feared the permit might set a precedent.
11. Awarded a $24,980.89 contract for Reed Boulevard improvements to Ghilotti Brothers of San Rafael, lowest of four bidders.
12. Set a hearing on rezning of the Bothin property on the south side of Richardson Bay, west of Richardson Bay Bridge, for 1:30 p.m. on Sept. 28. The firm wants a change from interim agricultural zoning to precise planned zoning that will permit development of a marina, shopping center, motels and apartments and a convention center.
13. Set hearing for 1:30 p.m. Tuesday on appeal from planning commission approval for multiple residential zoning on the west side of Merrydale Road north of San Pedro Road in San Rafael Meadows.
14. Postponed for a week a revision to the firearms ordinance which would lift the restriction requiring a "malicious intent" to be proved before prosecution for shooting off guns near buildings. The delay was asked for by the sheriff.
15. Referred to city-county services committee a request by Novato City Council for an estimate of comparative cost of sheriff's deputies taking over police services in Novato.

Young Republicans Demand Kuchel Resign

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Los Angeles County Young Republicans voted yesterday to oppose U.S. Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel at all times, and demanded he resign from the Republican party.

After an hour-long debate the group voted 110 to 45 in favor of a resolution condemning the state's senior senator for allegedly deserting traditional Republican principles.

Cuba Drive Against Traffic Accidents

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The Cuban press has called for a drive to diminish traffic accidents that have increased throughout the island since 1963, according to official statistics.

Havana radio quoted an editorial in the Communist paper Hoy which said 533 persons were killed in traffic accidents in 1963.

Pair Killed In Airport Plane Crash, Explosion

HAYWARD (AP) — Two persons were killed and a third seriously injured when a converted Navy patrol plane bound for Manila crashed and exploded on takeoff from Hayward airport yesterday.

Killed were Kent Staley, 42, and Mark Pinto, 16. Both had recently moved to Guam from Pleasant Hill. Staley was formerly a pilot for a major airline.

Juan Lintiaco, 29, of Guam was in fair condition at a Hayward hospital. He was thrown from the craft by the crash and escaped the explosion.

Witnesses said the plane, loaded with 1,800 gallons of gasoline, began to wobble at about 200 feet altitude, righted itself, then plunged to the ground.

Space Club Shot

ADELAIDE, Australia (AP) — The European space club's first independently launched space satellite should be fired from Woomera rocket range in south Australia before the end of 1967, officials say.

Parolee Guilty In Murder Case

EUREKA (AP) — Henry Eugene Jones, a San Quentin parolee, was convicted Tuesday night of murder and assault with a deadly weapon.

Jones was found guilty of killing Harold V. Pavey, 63, a Eureka union business agent. Pavey died after he was beaten with a lead pipe June 23, 1964.

Jones had been paroled from San Quentin.

The assault charge was the result of a beating Jones' wife received with the same pipe. Jones was sent to prison on a murder and an attempted murder charge in 1947.

Hawaii Senator Seeks China Visit Approval

HONOLULU (AP) — Sen. Hiram L. Fong, R-Hawaii, said today he has written twice to Mao Tse-tung asking permission to visit Red China.

So far there has been no reply to his letters, Fong said.

Flood Control Needs Recognized By Council

The concept of the need for flood control was endorsed last night by the Mill Valley City Council, the council pledging full cooperation and execution thereof.

Action followed a request from County Flood Control District No. 3 asking for such a resolution. City Mgr. Bert A. Balmer said the county board of supervisors is being asked to adopt a similar resolution. The two are to become part of the record and used by the Corps of Engineers in their request to Congress to proceed with work on the proposed flood control project for Arroyo Corte Madera Del Presidio Creek.

Several citizens in the audience asked questions about the corps proposal, one man asking to whom he could send his suggestions.

Acting Mayor Albert E. White told him to write to Harvey E. Bragdon, city planning director, since Bragdon and City Engineer Stanley M. Bala are to produce alternatives to the corps "concrete Creek" proposal, the latter being turned down by councilmen and citizens.

Balmer told council it will be at least three years before final plans might be made for the project.

Questioned by Jean Barnard as to cost of keeping Mill Valley creeks clean now, Balmer replied, "about $3,000 to $4,000 a year to clear them in lower creek areas behind Miller Avenue." Mrs Barnard asked, if the project would go through of the city council wants it. White responded, "If the council does not want it, there will be no project."

Hurricane Betsy Hits Cuba; Families Flee

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Havana Radio said today that thousands of families were evacuated from the north coast of Las Villas, Matanzas, Havana and Pinar del Rio provinces in Cuba because of Hurricane Betsy.

Waves, winds and rains generated by Betsy were expected to hit the north Cuban coast, flooding low areas, the broadcast said.

Corte Madera Lets Contract On Road Job

A contract for reconstruction of Meadowsweet Drive from Tamalpais Drive east to the Corte Madera town limits was awarded to Brown-Ely Co. of San Rafael last night by the Corte Madera Town Council.

The company's bid of $23,466.52 was $826.73 below the engineer's estimate and the lowest of four bids on the job.

The council approved specifications for about $8,000 worth of furniture and equipment for the new public safety building and remodeled town hall. Councilmen agreed to allocate money for the furnishings when the contract is awarded. Bids will be opened at 2 p.m. Sept. 20.

The Corte Madera Town Council also:

1. Authorized Town Mgr. Ronald L. Usher to analyze the town's accounting system and recommend changes in account classifications. The report accompanying the 1964-65 audit of the town's books recommended a more efficient system of recording financial transactions.
2. Accepted notices of completion on repaving of Corte Madera Avenue from Tamalpais Drive to the town limits and various other street maintenance projects.
3. Authorized opening and cleaning the 36-inch storm drain on Chapman Drive, south of Tamalpais Drive. The town will negotiate with a concrete pumping service for construction of a new bottom on 410 lineal feet of the old drain.
4. Approved payment of $537 to Philip B. Lygren, acting town engineer, for services during August.
5. Approved hanging a banner across Tamalpais Drive to advertise the Corte Madera Volunteer Firemen's ball Oct. 9 at the recreation center.
6. Allocated $350 for the 1966 Fourth of July celebration to be sponsored by the Corte Madera Chamber of Commerce.
7. Received a letter from the Mariner Cove Improvement Assn. thanking the council and town staff for improvements recently completed on Paradise Drive and other streets in Mariner Cove.
8. Referred to the Mariner Highlands Improvements Assn. a letter from A. Peter Lenz requesting installation of a stop sign on Endeavor Drive at Prince Royal Drive.
9. Authorized drafting a uniform traffic ordinance to replace many old ordinances covering violations at each stop sign in the town.
10. Authorized Arthur N. Morrison, director of public works, to attend a review course on civil engineering at University of California.
11. Agreed to ask Herber C. Leney of 218 Golden Hind Passage, to accept appointment as Corte Madera chairman of the United Nations Day observance Oct. 24.
12. Proclaimed this week as "Women in Construction Week."
13. Referred a recommendation from the town manager on purchase of a 25-foot wide, 92-foot long parcel paralleling the end of Stetson Avenue to the planning commission for study. The land could be used for street purposes, Usher said. It is available for tax sale.

State Lab Gets Inn Slaying Clues

San Rafael Police Chief Charles J. Chiesa took "some physical evidence" from Monday morning's slaying and holdup at the Mission Inn to the Criminal Identification and Investigation Laboratory in Sacramento today.

Asst. Police Chief Joseph Brusatori said the evidence included shells recovered from the area at the restaurant and bar where bartender Mario Ferrari, 52, was shot while running from two hooded bandits.

He said he did not know what other evidence the chief had accumulated.

The two robbers broke into the apartment of bar co-owner Leo Albertoni in the rear of the building at about 1 a.m. on Labor Day. When Albertoni returned to the apartment from the kitchen, he was slugged on the back of the head and his hands were bound with copper wiring.

He later described the gun-wielding pair as over six feet tall. He said they were dressed entirely in black, wore sweater sleeves with eye-slits cut in them for hoods and tight fitting black gloves to avoid leaving fingerprints.

For two hours, they searched Albertoni's room for the combination to the restaurant safe. At 3 a.m. they took him to the dining room and had him call in bartenders Ferrari and Alfred Casey, 49, who were counting the night's bar receipts.

Ferrari had been in the dining room with the bandits only a few minutes, before he turned and tried to run for help. The bandits fired four shots, striking him three times.

Police have reason to think the gunmen might have been familiar with the restaurant. The two called Albertoni by his first name, knew where the restaurant safe was located and knew Ferrari carried a lot of money.

Motorist Fined $276 For Drunken Driving

Joe Vernon Rockhold, 25, of Long Beach was fined $276 yesterday in Marin Municipal Court for drunken driving last Aug. 14.

He was arrested on San Francisco Boulevard by San Anselmo police.

Seats For Women

COLOMBO, Ceylon (AP) — All city buses are to have three seats reserved for women, an arrangement intended to provide relief to expectant mothers and women carrying children with them.

Gun Girls Strike For Third Time

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Girl bandits, packing pistols, struck the Bay Area for the third time within 24 hours today.

Their latest victim was a peninsula laundry which was held up by two young women fitting the descriptions of those who got away with $780 yesterday in two San Francisco holdups.

The take at the Family Service Laundry, Burlingame, was only $8 and some cleaned clothing.

A janitor, Earl Smith, 62, said the two took the money from the cash register after he told them he couldn't open the safe.

The girls were described as about 5 feet 3, in their early 20s, wearing sweaters and dark skirts.

The present-day Alumni Federation of Columbus University traces its origin from the formation of the Society of the Alumni of Columbia College in 1825.

San Rafael Fire Chief Pay Up $100 Monthly

The San Rafael City Council, with little discussion, concurred in a recommendation of its fire commission that Trivett be raised to $1,100 per month. His pay was set at $1,000 per month during July budget discussions, a $50 raise from last year.

The council also granted an increase in pay for Gerald Green, the second juvenile officer on the San Rafael police force. Police Chief Charles J. Chiesa had earlier urged, without success, that the job carry sergeant's pay. The council early today approved a five per cent boost asked by Chiesa, which will place the job midway between patrolman and sergeant. Green will go to $670 per month.

Promotions of Gerald Souza and Richard Douglas from patrolman to sergeant on the police force were approved. Both will start the new job at $704 per month.

Marin Young Demos Back D.C. Home Rule

Marin Young Democrats last night unanimously adopted a resolution urging that the District of Columbia be granted home rule and representation in Congress.

Robert D. Carrow, chairman of the Marin Democratic Central Committee, described operation of the committee and invited members of the Young Democrats to visit its meetings.

Realty Man's 'Lucky Seven'

On that anniversary recently, he was guest at a dinner, where the guests numbered twice seven. Among them were seven grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

Peter, who graduated from high school in 1907, figures it all started a generation back. His father was the seventh child in his family.

Antenna Is Erected Without City Permit

A 40-foot television antenna, attacked last month as an eye sore, was erected without a city permit, the Sausalito City Council was informed last night.

Mayor Jan Paul Dyk directed the city attorney to notify Bob Rose of Sausalito Community Television System to appear before the council at its next meeting and apply for a use permit for the antenna behind Curry Lane.

Before the council last night were three letters from Crecienta Drive residents protesting the antenna. Mrs. Elaine S. Austin of 26 Crecienta Drive described the structure as "a field of oil derricks."

The Sausalito City Council Also:

1. Accepted resignation of Raymond G. Gergus as a member of the community appearances advisory board.
2. Held over to the next meeting discussion of the proposed "transient occupancy tax."
3. Denied the application of Dr. and Mrs. Steven Ross of 410 North Street for an extension of a variance granted last year allowing the doctor to build a library addition onto his house on a claim of hardship.
4. Accepted resignation of Noel D. Martin of 61 Platt Avenue from the library board.
5. Set a hearing for Oct. 21 on an appeal by Federal Sign and Signal Corp. from denial of a permit for a double-faced sign at the Arbordale Restaurant.
6. Rezoned from multiple-residential to public, to prevent development, lands belonging to State Division of Highways near the Richardson Bay School. The land will be put on sale this fall, according to the mayor.
7. Awarded A. J. Shooter Co. a contract for landscaping Lagendorf Park at $11,715. The bid was $290 above the city engineer's estimate.
8. Awarded lease of the gazebo bus station to the Marin Visitors Bureau at $20 per month. The visitors bureau will sell bus tickets, magazines, tobacco, and candy, in addition to dispensing travel information.
9. Denied a claim for $30,000 in damages by Larry E. Gray of 321 Second Street. Gray claimed he was injured when the car he was in hit a dangerous hump on Gate Five Road.

Assassination Weapon Bill Goes To Senate

WASHINGTON (AP)—A bill to give the government permanent possession of the rifle with which President John F. Kennedy was killed has passed the House and gone to the Senate.

The rifle — and the .38 caliber revolver used by Lee Harvey Oswald, Kennedy's assassin, to kill Dallas Policeman J.D. Tippett — are in an FBI storage vault.

Judge Peirson M. Hall said he would set a trial date when they return to court Sept. 27.

The men are David Henry Loraine, 44, a British film producer; Edward S. Friedland,51,a New York City attorney; Richard Randall, 40, a Los Angeles film distributor, and Robert James Terry, 23, a New York City film distributor.

Emergency Group Aids In Water Drive

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — The Radio Emergency Association Citizen Team, formed last May to help police combat crime in the streets, is now on the lookout for illegal users of water.

The 48 members cruise the streets in private, radio-equipped cars and contact police if criminal activity is spotted. Now the group says it will radio police if they spot illegal water users. Lawn and shrub watering, car washing and some other uses of water have been banned in the city due to drought.

FOR 16-YEAR-OLDS?

Late Pool Hall Hours Requested

Sixteen-year-olds could play pool until 2 a.m. under terms of an ordinance amendment introduced by the San Rafael City Council last night.

The amendment to the city's billiard room ordinance would change the closing hour from 11 p.m. to 2 a.m. and reduce the minimum age for patrons from 21 to 16.

As it was introduced, Councilman Charles W. Aby remarked that one of two existing billiard parlors is not complying with terms of the ordinance as it already stands.

The changes in the billiard hall ordinance were requested by James Hambrick, who plans a "family billiard parlor" at 921 C Street, and recommended by Police Chief Charles J. Chiesa.

Although drawn for Hambrick's "family type" operation, they would apply also to George's Recreation Parlor at 842 Fourth Street and the Country Club Bowl at 88 Vivian Way.

Councilman Aby noted that the ordinance already requires that billiard halls be open to view from the street, which George's is not. Also they are prohibited from selling alcoholic beverages. There are adjoining bars in both George's and the Country Club Club Bowl.

Mayor C. Paul Bettini said he also has had several complaints about lewd remarks by loiterers in front of George's when women pass on the sidewalk.

Asst. Police Chief Joseph Brusatori was quick to say the proprietors of George's have been "most cooperative" with police. There was no discussion about the possible effect of allowing 16-year-olds in pool halls which remain open to 2 a.m.—well beyond the curfew for unattended 16-year-olds.

With little discussion, the council shortly before 1 a.m. today authorized Mayor Bettini and City Clerk W. C. Cornwell to sign a joint powers agreement with the county on widening of San Pedro Road. This has been the subject of a letter to Bettini from County Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker, who felt the city was dragging its heels.

The session lasted until 1:15 a.m.

The San Rafael City Council Also:

1. Awarded L. H. Leonardi Construction Co. of San Rafael a contract to install traffic signals on Third Street at $11,990, lowest of three bids. All three were under the engineer's estimate of $15,645.

2. Put over to Oct. 4 discussion of a proposal for rezoning ordinance amendment to permit cluster zoning. Planning Technician Charles Linthicum asked that it be discussed then at the same time as the proposed slope policy.

3. Overrode the planning commission to grant San Rafael Federal Savings and Loan Assn. permission for a sign of which the lower part—a clock on one side and thermometer on the other, will revolve, but refused to allow a much larger revolving sign on a Shell Oil Co. service station in Northgate North. At the same time, on motion of Aby, the council instructed City Atty. David Menary Jr. to prepare a sign ordinance amending spelling out that only nonadvertising portions of Fourth Street signs may revolve.

4. Voted to abandon a portion of Tampa Drive.

5. Put off to Oct. 4 discussion of revision of the off-street parking requirements in commercial districts.

6. On complaint of Jack Alvarado of the Chamber of Commerce that the Linden Lane vehicular tunnel "is covered with filthy obscenities," instructed Public Works Director Norris M. Rawles to put his crews to work obliterating them.

7. Granted William T. Bagley permission for installing of riprap along some fill on Mactavish property in East San Rafael. Rawles referred the application to the council because he said it was "filling the bay."

8. Received from Alvarado a report that the chamber of commerce would like to eliminate diagonal parking from Fourth Street if it will not adversely affect financing of the downtown parking district, and directed Finance Officer Orrin Wendling to check into its financial effect.

9. Complimented the parks and recreation department on its summer youth employment program. Mayor Bettini said he hopes the council will appropriate more money next year so the program can be expanded.

10. Approved preliminary plans by Dan Coleman Associates for development of Nunes Park.

11. Passed to print an ordinance amendment making a minor change in fire commission procedure.

12. Adopted a resolution accepting dedication of some of the Alexander Forbes lands atop San Rafael Hill, long used as a public park.

13. Accepted notice of completion of East San Rafael Assessment District No. 2.

14. Passed to print ordinance amendments providing for 24-hour loading zones in front of restaurants and making Third Street a truck route its entire length, both on recommendation of Rawles and the traffic committee.

15. Approved purchase from Northwestern Pacific Railroad for $300 of 300 square feet of land off Lindaro Street needed for a storm sewer pumping station.

16. Called for bids on surplus city property at Lisbon Street and Bellam Boulevard, to be opened at the Sept. 20 meeting.

17. Granted the parks and recreation department a $5,000 appropriation to complete improvements at Sun Valley Park.

18. Instructed Rawles to attend a hearing of the California Public Utilities Commission on undergrounding utilities on Sept. 29 in San Francisco.

19. Adopted ordinances rezoning the southwest corner of Fourth and Union streets from apartments to commercial, and all of the Francisco Boulevard Assessment District from manufacturing and unclassified to planned commercial-manufacturing.

20. Adopted an ordinance annexing the 96-acre Smith Ranch "Northgate Industrial Park Unit 2" property.

21. Set for Sept. 20 hearing on L. P. Aquilino's appeal of planning commission denial of a permit for a car storage lot on Jordan Street.

22. Held over approval of the final map of Harbor Village Condominium.

23. Granted leaves of absence to Modesto Lamperti, public works department employee, and Stanley Bush, fireman.

Draft Objector Gets Jail Term

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A young man who claims he's a member of the Black Muslim sect and refused to be drafted into military service has been sentenced to three years in prison.

Superior Court Judge Peirson M. Hall said yesterday he gave Leroy Hardy Jr., 21, the same sentence given anyone "who refused to go into the Army."

Hardy, a piano finisher, testified his religion would not permit him to engage in war unless he were attacked.

Guest Of Honor

CLIFFWOOD BEACH, N.J. (AP) — Astronaut L. Gordon Cooper Jr. is due to be the guest of honor next month at dedication ceremonies marking the completion of Madison Township's $4-million school construction program.

Mental Center Opening Delayed

Marin County supervisors yesterday authorized a delay of perhaps two months in establish ment of a county day care mental health center.

The center, which would require hiring of a psychiatrist, a consulting psychiatric nurse, a psychiatric nurse and an occupational therepist, was to to open in October.

Asst. County Administrator John F. Barrows told the board yesterday that time is needed to adjust to mental health services already added. He said the day care center should be under way by Jan. 1.

Mill Valley Adopts Hike In Business License Fees

Mill Valley City Council adopted an ordinance last night raising some of the city's business license fees retroactively to last July 1.

The council passed the ordinance 4-1, Councilman George E. Wickham voting "No." Wickham said he agrees with parts of the ordinance but "not the package."

The emergency ordinance will allow a refund to businesses grossing to $15,000 that have already paid their license fees. Those licenses have been dropped from $36 to $24 per year.

The ordinance raises the fee from $36 to $38 per year for those doing from $15,000 to $25,000 gross business, and by $6 per year in all categories above $25,000 gross.

It also includes setting a flat license fee of $6 for each apartment unit in the city, removes the 150 per cent increased license fee for any outside business operating in Mill Valley and makes licenses purchasable only on an annual or semi-annual basis.

Business men, who opposed the increases at earlier hearings, were not heard from last night.

Property owners in the area between East Blithedale and Lomita avenues have signed an agreement to put up $45,000 to build Lomita Avenue, now a dirt, unuseable road, from Ashford to East Blithedale avenues. "This is the first step in rebuilding East Blithedale," reported City Mgr. Bert A. Balmer, "since before East Blithedale can be closed and rebuilt, we have to have Lomita in."

Balmer said property owners should be congratulated. Acting Mayor Albert E. White said property owners should also be congratulated for installing sidewalks on East Blithedale on a voluntary basis.

The Mill Valley City Council also:

1. Accepted low bid of $4,992 and awarded a contract to Ghilotti Brothers, San Rafael, for Florence and Molino Avenue street improvements.

2. Agreed not to amend an ordinance prohibiting any building within 15 feet of the creek on landlocked Miller Avenue lots, but to continue using planned review procedure.

3. Adopted an ordinance to annex Alto corridor No. 1 to the city.

4. Continued a request for stop signs on Azalea Drive at Hollyhock and Aster courts for a fuller council. Both Mayor Michael Wornum and Councilman Joseph E. Sheeks arrived late last night.

5. Asked Balmer to investigate effectiveness of a crosswalk on Miller Avenue near Park Avenue.

6. Resubdivided five lots of Melvin Silva at East Blithedale and Catalpa avenues into one and rezoned the area from single family to duplex to permit eight units, Francis C. Moffat, 34 Catalpa, objecting saying the council should hold the line on single-family zoning.

7. Proclaimed Sept. 5-11 "Women in Construction Week" and Oct. 24 "United Nations Day."

8. Appointed Donald J. Batchelder and Dan Lieberman to another term on the city's architectural advisory committee, their terms having expired.

Supervisors Back Giving Choice On Eye Examinations

A resolution which would give county aid medical patients choice of the optometrists to examine their eyes was approved unanimously by the Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday despite opposition by Dr. Michael Scholl, county medical director.

"I find this completely unacceptable," Dr. Scholl said. "It will hamstring our clinical doctors."

The resolution from the Marin Optometric Society asked that no county doctor make "any recommendation suggesting or directing" a patient in need of services "to a designated practitioner or group of practitioners."

Attorney Joseph E. Sheeks, who presented the petition for the society, said a few specialists were getting all county referrals in some counties.

All the society members want, he said, is an opportunity to compete on an equal basis.

Dr. Scholl said state legislation already was under study to let county patients make their own choice of specialists. Until such a bill is passed, he said, his doctors should be allowed to make recommendations to patients.

Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen said, "I do not think the county should wait until a law is passed." The other supervisors agreed.

Tiny Tot Program Slated For Novato

The tiny tot program of the Novato parks and recreation department will start its first five-week fall session Monday at the Novato Community House.

The class is open to children from three and one-half to five years. Classes are from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. or 1 to 3 p.m. on two or three day schedules. Clay work, painting, singing and story telling are some of the activities taught.

New Line On Nikita: 'Capricious, Ignorant'

MOSCOW (AP) — A blistering attack by Soviet Communist party leaders on former Premier Nikita Khrushchev is on sale in Moscow bookstores.

Khrushchev was capricious and ignorant and led Russia to agricultural failures, top Communists said in speeches to a meeting of the party Central Committee last March. A report of the meeting, published yesterday, contained the harshest public criticism of the deposed premier since he was ousted last October.

Meeting Changes

The Novato parks and recreation commission, which was scheduled to meet Monday but did not because of the holiday, will hold a study session on the master recreation plan at 8 p.m. next Monday at the Novato Community House.

DON'T FORGET OUR FRESH FISH DEPARTMENT

REJECTED — This is 'Orrible, the tame toucan. He is being given a grape by his 8-year-old owner, Frank Gower, son of Mr. and Mrs. Allan Gower of 33 Serra Way, San Rafael. The grape is for 'Orrible's effort in trying to lure Phantom, the runaway toucan of San Rafael's West End, down from a tree yesterday. 'Orrible tried — but failed.

One-Way Bridge Tolls Discussed

A one-way toll proposal for the Golden Gate Bridge got an hour's discussion today by the bridge district building and operating committee, but decision was postponed because of objections from several directors.

Chief spokesman for the one-way toll idea was Ben K. Lerer of San Francisco, who said, "It would be feasible from an operating, financial and engineering standpoint. I see no reason why we can't try one-way tolls."

Thomas D. Hardcastle, a Marin director, seconded Lerer's motion.

Opposition came from William D. Hadeler of San Francisco, who said he was not satisfied on legality of allowing traffic to go free one-way. Furthermore, he said, the congestion is not on the bridge itself, so elimination of tolls one-way would not solve it.

Another objector was John E. Nelson of Mendocino County, who declared he is unalterably opposed. Director Stephan Leonoudakis of San Francisco said he feared the district would lose revenue by the plan.

Chairman Dan E. London of the committee proposed the discussion be put over, and this was voted unanimously.

Two Intoxicated Drivers Fined

William D. Chapman, 43, of 38 Park Lane, Fairfax, was fined $276 yesterday in Marin Municipal Court on his no-contest plea to drunken driving. He was arrested on Highway 101 by sheriff's officers Aug. 29.

Richard LeRoy Parrott, 24, of 87 Madrone Avenue, Larkspur, was fined $220 on his guilty plea to drunken driving. San Anselmo police arrested him Aug. 14 on Prospect Avenue.

'Fear Delaying Watts Progress'

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Controller Alan Cranston today warned that a "climate of fear" threatens to delay progress toward eliminating the conditions which led to the riots in Los Angeles last month.

Cranston said that in visits to Los Angeles and other parts of the state he has detected "too much confusion and not enough positive concern; too much bitterness and not enough hope, and too much fear and not enough understanding."

Cranston told the San Francisco Barristers Club "It would be tragic if the people of our state sought to escape into the comfort of superficial answers and scapegoat - hunting in response to the basic question: "Why Watts?' "

Architects Chosen For Housing Job

Campbell and Wong and Associates, San Francisco architects, were selected last night by Marin County Housing Authority commissioners to design the first series of housing for the elderly in Santa Venetia.

Commissioners interviewed architects from six companies. Approximately 50 low-rent units are to be built from a total of 200 approved last November by voters.

Redevelopment agency commissioners, meeting earlier, approved prices for 31 single family homes to be offered in 30 days to families not qualified for relocation in Marin City. Houses, now under construction, are available to relocatees at prices about $1,000 under those for non-relocatees.

Prices set last night are $21,650 for a three bedroom, one bath home; $22,700, three bedroom, one and one-half baths; $24,700 for four bedroom, two baths and $24,900 for delux three bedroom, two baths. Houses are on Park Circle and Buckelew Street.

John J. Pershing was the only officer ever to bear the title "General of the Armies," the highest rank ever established by Congress.

Marinwood Reviews Teen Conduct Rules

The Marinwood Park and Recreation Commission last night reviewed rules of conduct and a membership card system with the hope that they can re-open evening teen-age functions at the community center.

Teen-age parties were closed early last month after neighbors complained of noise and drinking in the parking lots during two dances.

Commission chairman William T. Lane Jr. said commissioner Robin Morton was assigned to make further study of rules of conduct, perhaps patterning them after those adopted by the directors of the Terra Linda Recreation and Parks District recently.

The commission discussed a street light to prevent misuse of the tennis court after dark. Lane said the net has been knocked down on several occasions and horses entered the court at one time.

The commission will make a budget study to see if weekend swimming can be expanded. On the present schedule, the pool will close after this weekend.

Saucelito Canal Proposal Gains

Formation of an assessment district to finance the half million dollar project to dredge Saucelito Canal moved a step closer today with a meeting of property owners involved at the Marin County Civic Center.

The session was called by attorney Kenneth Jones, working on formation of the district.

The highest rate of deaths from accidental causes occurs in three western states — Wyoming, Nevada and Idaho — where 80 or more people per 100,000 die of fatal accidents.

Novato School Staff Trimmed

The Novato Unified School District, which had five assistant superintendents after unficiation with the San Jose District, now has only four.

Trustees last night accepted the resignation of Charles W. Lavaroni, who was assistant superintendent in charge of elementary education. He resigned to become superintendent of Sausalito School District.

The board then gave Paul C. Mobley, assistant superintendent in charge of secondary education, the duties of Lavaroni at no increase in salary.

Waterfront Consultants Make Report

Future of Tiburon's waterfront should be a "careful balance between community facilities, civic, recreational and commercial activities," according to the first progress report of Callister and Payne, consultants to the city of Tiburon on planning.

The report was unanimously accepted by the planning commission last night.

Provisions of the report include access to a major part of the waterfront by means of easements or public ownership, a small waterfront park placed in public ownership, commercial-recreational developments permitted bordering the public easement.

Special traffic and parking studies are to be made, and the drainage problem resolved by means of a holding basin and pumping stations.

Proposed commercial and residential development of the Belvedere Land Co. at Beach Road, Main Street, and Juanita Avenue, involving the post office area, was accepted subject to restrictions on parking, setback, etc.

Application for a subdivision by Kingman-Payn Co. at Hilary Drive bounded by Hawthorne Terrace, Hawthorne Unit 3, Francisco Vista and Del Mar Estates No. 1 was conditionally approved.

Radio Taken From Plane At Airport

Ronald L. Johnston, 390 Scenic Avenue, San Anselmo, told officers the instrument was taken from his plane's dashboard during the past five days. Entry was by forcing a left door.

Lloyd D. Groff, 895 Eucalyptus Avenue, Novato, reported that someone pried a front room window screen of his home and entered to steal bedsheets, dishes, and a coffee table.

A southeast window of the home of Howard J. Salkin, 5 Green Valley Court, Sleepy Hollow, also was pried. Burglars took $10 change from a bedroom dresser and a small bench, sheriff's officers said.

Ryle A. Radke, 124 Blackstone Drive, Marinwood, reported a safety chain on a kitchen door was broken, but would-be intruders apparently failed to gain entry to his house.

IT'S JUST 'ORRIBLE

Bird Turns Up Beak At Offer Of Mate

By ALAN ADELSON

Marin's famous roving Toucan turned up its beak yesterday when two San Rafael women did their best to "fix it up" with 'Orrible, a foot-long Peruvian Toucan that has been the pet for five years of Mrs. Allan Gower of 33 Serra Way, San Rafael, and her son, Frank.

'Orrible seemed to like the phantom toucan that's been perching on Mrs. Raymond Thayer's study window at 86 Culloden Park Road for a week, but free and easy toucans are not easily seduced into domesticity.

Mrs. Thayer has been feeding the phantom bird grapes and bananas for a week now, while the bird makes its home somewhere in her yard.

Creeping slowly towards the bird-feeding tray where the toucan was feeding yesterday, Mrs. Gower did her best to make 'Orrible seem attractive, displaying his magnificent profile, replete with a seven-inch beak. But with a squawk and a flourish, the other toucan headed for the trees.

"I don't think he wants to be caught," said Mrs. Thayer, and the toucan squawked its agreement.

"Poor 'Orrible," lamented Mrs. Gower. "I had so hoped we could find him a mate."

She drove away with a disappointed 'Orrible, but the other toucan, perched on a high branch, wouldn't even bat his wings goodbye.

Mrs. Thayer was disappointed, too. She'd like to make a pet of the phantom, she said—although Norman Hudson of 319 G Street believes it is his toucan that escaped from a cage and flew away.

Town House Construction In San Anselmo Approved

Approval for construction of 44 town houses near the Hub intersection, proposed by Norman T. Gilroy, was granted by 3-2 vote of the San Anselmo Planning Commission last night.

Commissioners Jerry W. Lloyd, Warren Perry and James Murphy favored the change in the basic concept of Gilroy's planned unit development at Loma Robles, off Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.

Alan J. Creighton and Duane C. Ragan voted against allowing construction of the single-family town houses in the area where a 44-unit apartment complex was proposed originally. Commissioners John West and Edward L. Nordmann were absent.

The San Anselmo Planning Commission also:

1. Approved rezoning a small portion of property owned by Sunny Hills from single-family residential to a multiple-commercial area. The action for rezoning was initiated by the commission.

2. Approved a lot split at 254 Redwood Road, requested by Wilfred A. De Cook and Barry Rogers.

200 Marin Teachers At Institute

More than 200 teachers from 10 elementary school districts in Marin attended a teachers institute today at the College of Marin gymnasium, Kentfield.

The institute, sponsored by the Marin County Schools Office, was on the theme "Motivating Children's Learning."

Rev. Boyce Van Osdel, pastor of the First Baptist Church, Oakland, Howard K. Slatoff, associate dean of students, California State College at Hayward, and Theodore E. Glim, assistant superintendent, Shoreline School District, Seattle, Wash., spoke at the morning session.

George Sheviakov, professor of education and psychology, San Francisco State College, spoke at the afternoon session.

New Aquanaut Shift Due For Sealab Work

LA JOLLA (UPI)—Nine aquanauts have been chosen to relieve all but one of the 10 experimenters who are nearing 15 days underwater in Sealab 2 in the Man-in-the-Sea Project.

Of the 10 aquanauts who descended 205 feet beneath the waves in Scripps Canyon Aug. 28, only astronaut-aquanaut M. Scott Carpenter will remain submerged past Sunday—target date for the switchover.

Exception To Tax Relief Blast Taken

Marin County Supervisors yesterday took exception to a charge by P. J. Rowland, president of the Marin County Taxpayers Assn. that nothing has been attempted to bring relief to the taxpayer.

Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen asked that a letter be sent Rowland asking for a list of members and officers and a description of the organization of the association.

Rowland said in his letter that the state legislature had not, "in a single instance" made any attempt at tax relief. Supervisors asked that Rowland be informed of legislation attempted in the last session and of proposals currently under study by the board of supervisors.

Marin County Supervisors yesterday asked that studies be kept alive on a proposed dump site across Highway 101 from Corte Madera.

Public Works Director Donald R. Frost reported that the price of the marsh land seemed prohibitive for a county dump site.

Frost said he did not want to suggest that the plan is dead. He said the town of Corte Madera is still interested. The dump would provide a filled area that the town would eventually use as a recreation area, Frost said.

"It's just a little old dump that some day is going to be a golf course," Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker said.

When the plan was proposed last spring, board members received several letters from citizens opposing location of a dump within sight of Highway 101. Yesterday they instructed Frost to continue investigating the possibility of using the site.

The county dump in Larkspur will be closed in a few weeks. The county will make temporary use of a private dump near Point San Quentin.

Frost said he would continue his research for other sites and other means of disposing of trash.

Church Seeking Realigned Avenue

Our Lady of Mount Carmel Church in Mill Valley, failing to get a cul de sac on Oakdale Avenue for the building of a proposed new church last night asked the city council that Oakdale be realigned.

Most Rev. Joseph T. McGucken, archbishop of San Francisco, told the council by letter that efforts to get reversionary rights to a portion fo Oakdale from heirs of the late Jacob and Annie Gardner have failed. Hence, the church seeks realignment.

Councilmen had approved the cul de sac provided reversionary rights were given. The council referred the matter back to planning commission which is expected to hear it Sept. 28 and said the subject will come to council early in October.

School Assistance Bills To Be Combined

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional conferees have the job now of squaring separate bills passed by the Senate and House to finance a new assistance program for grade and high schools.

The measure passed by the Senate Tuesday granted $1,151,000,000 to carry out the program. This is $814 million more generous than the House bill but $144 million less than President Johnson asked.

NEW FURNITURE OUTLET—This 20,000-square foot furnishings and appliance store will be opened Friday by Young Brothers of San Francisco at Highway 101 and Olive Avenue, Novato. It is the fourth store in a chain planned to extend to other parts of the Bay Area. National brands in television, stereo equipment and household furnishings will be offered. (Independent-Journal photo)

Dividend Declared

MORTON GROVE, Ill. — The board of directors of Baxter Laboratories, Inc., has declared regular quarterly dividend No. 121 of 10 cents per share on the company's common stock. The quarterly dividend of $1.50 per share on the preferred stock was also declared. Both dividends are payable Sept. 30 to shareholders of record on Sept. 17.

Exports Of Wheat

WASHINGTON (UPI) — U.S. exports of wheat are exceeding the official forecasts by a big margin and may reach 800 million bushels this year.

Furniture Store Chain Opening Friday In Novato

The fourth in a chain of furniture and appliance stores by four brothers will open Friday in Novato.

The new outlet of Young Brothers is a 20-000-square-foot building at Highway 101 and Olive Street. It will carry national brands of television, stereo, kitchen appliances, carpets, mattresses and other household furnishings.

The company employs interior decorators to create completely furnished rooms. Displays are changed frequently so buyers may see how furniture arrangements will appear in their own homes.

The Young brothers — David, Harold, Joseph and Bernard — opened their first furniture store at 19th Avenue and Geary Street, San Francisco, about 14 years ago. Later, other stores were opened at 19th and Mission streets and on Front Street.

The Novato store, first in a move to expand outside of San Francisco, occupies a four-acre site. The owners eventually plan to add other buildings and create a retail shopping complex.

Foremost Viet Plant Completed

SAN FRANCISCO—Foremost Dairies, Inc., of San Francisco has announced the completion of its dairy products plant in Saigon, South Viet Nam, serving both the Vietnamese population and the U.S. armed forces on duty in the area.

The modern facility, located on a four acre site six miles north of Saigon, will produce sweetened condensed milk in 14 ounce cans which will be marketed throughout South Viet Nam.

In addition to the canned milk production, Foremost for several months has been producing a complete line of recombined dairy products, including ice cream and cottage cheese, for the U.S. armed forces in Viet Nam.

Steel Price Hike Troubles Industry

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — The big question in the steel industry now is "can the cost of the new labor contract be met without general price increases?"

Some industry leaders claim the package that averted a strike will cost more than the 47.3 cents an hour that was announced and that higher prices are inevitable as a result.

Outlays Increase

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A new government survey indicates industry's outlays for new plants and equipment this year will be around $50.92 billion, up 13.4 per cent from last year. The last survey in May forecast a 12.3 per cent gain for the year.

Condominium Now 'Town House' With New Development Set

The term "condominium" isn't used much these days, though the type of housing it describes is still prevalent in Marin.

The condominium has become a "town house," and one of the most recent developments of this kind to approach completion is Harbor Village in East San Rafael. First units are expected to go on the market in another 15 days or so.

These two and three-bedroom, two-bath homes (34 of them) are located on Canal Street between Novato and Larkspur streets and are being constructed in five separate building units.

Double walls with air space and sound material between them are featured for privacy. Drapes, carpeting and refrigeration are included in the price, along with swimming pool, landscaping and fencing. Slump block fireplaces, attached garages and private patios are other features. Some master bedrooms are 20 feet wide and overlook the pool area.

Harsch Vincent

JAMES A. HARSCH of Tiburon has been named marketing associate by Edward N. Hay and Associates, management consultants. He will work with John L. Bricker, vice president and general manager of the marketing division, providing marketing consulting services here and abroad through Hay offices in Philadelphia, Toronto and London. He previously worked for N. W. Ayer and Son, Inc., in San Francisco and Philadelphia.

WARREN VINCENT of Marin Mortgage Co., San Rafael, past president of Marin Sertoma Club, has been presented a certificate for superior club leadership by Robert Dexter Dolman of Corte Madera, district governor of Sertoma International.

The Marin club itself also came in for the International Silver Honor Club Award by directors of Sertoma International for outstanding achievement during 1964-65. Marin Sertoma is composed of business and professional men in non-competitive fields of service.

Giants Return Home In First Place; Face Astros

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The San Francisco Giants roosted atop the National League today for the first time this year, but they conceded their precarious position was hardly cause for relaxation.

A 23-year-old slugger, Jim Hart, lifted the Giants into the top spot and knocked the Los Angeles Dodgers out of it with a run-scoring single and a tie-breaking two-run homer last night.

Hart's big evening boosted San Francisco just two percentage points over Los Angeles, and today the Dodgers, for the 18th day in this amazing pennant race, were out of first place.

Los Angeles has never been more than one game back and there was no pushing a panic button this time.

Herman Franks' the affable manager of the Giants' summed it up pretty well as he talked in his office in the Giants' clubhouse after the game.

Would the slight descent affect the Dodgers?

Franks, after a pause, added with a smile, "I wish it would."

Would the situation give the Giants a lift?

"Who knows," said Captain Willie Mays. "Actually, I don't know. I wish I did."

The Giants were in San Francisco to play the Houston Astros today. The Dodgers had the day off, not even batting practice.

"Everyone," said Manager Walt Alston, "has earned a rest. Well, maybe they didn't earn it, but they need it."

There was a note of humor in the amending phrase.

Things were quiet in the Dodger clubhouse as the crowd of 48,576 was still leaving the stadium.

There was no real celebration over in the Giants' quarters. But it was obviously a happy place. They had swept the important two-game series.

Hart was the center of attention. He's not the outgoing type, but answered questions faithfully.

The home run was on a high and outside pitch by Claude Osteen in the fifth — a serve Alston observed that was much to Hart's liking.

It cleared the 410-foot mark and scored Mays, who had walked.

Hart agreed, again under questioning, that this was perhaps his most significant home run. Mays reminded all that Hart had observed even bigger days — "at home in San Francisco, in Chicago" — but Willie did agree that this was a very special occasion.

Successive singles in the first inning off Osteen by Jesus Alou, Mays and Hart accounted for the first run.

"All I got was this little bleeder tonight," said Mays, forgetting for the moment that he delivered a ringing double in the third and a second single in the seventh after going hitless in the 7-6 Giant victory Monday night.

Back-to-back doubles by Wes Parker and John Roseboro accounted for the lone Dodger run in the third off winning pitcher Bob Shaw, now 15-8. Masanori Murakami worked the last 1 1-3 innings in relief for the Giants.

A HART ATTACK — San Francisco's Jim Ray Hart gets a handshake from Willie Mays after blasting a two-run homer in centerfield in the fifth inning to provide the winning margin for the Giants over the Dodgers last night. Hart knocked in another run with a single to account for all San Francisco runs in the 3-1 triumph. That's Dodger catcher John Roseboro on the left. (AP Wirephoto)

Jets' John Huarte 'Temporarily' Cut

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

John Huarte has finished out of the money in the first division of the Sonny Werblin Stakes — the world's richest race for fledgling pro quarterbacks.

But it's a good bet that the Heisman Trophy winner hasn't made his last bid for the New York Jets' signal-calling job.

Huarte, signed by Jets' owner Werblin for approximately $200,000 after his brilliant senior year at Notre Dame, was one of six players put on waivers by the American Football League club in yesterday's final preseason roster cutdown.

There was little doubt, however, that Huarte — who failed to beat out either fellow rookie Joe ($400,000) Namath or second-year man Mike Taliaferro for a spot on the varsity — would remain on the Jets payroll despite his supposed availability today for the waiver price of $100.

Should any of the other seven AFL clubs be willing to take on his salary by claiming him, the Jets probably will remove his name from the waiver list and restore him to their roster, now one below the league limit of 38.

If the waivers clear, Huarte will go on the Jets' taxi squad and be eligible for promotion after two weeks.

Former stars Dick (Night Train) Lane and Clarence Peaks had less security than Huarte after being cut by National Football League teams in that league's next-to-last squad reductions.

Lane, a 13-year pro, was released by the Detroit Lions while Peaks, a top fullback for eight seasons, was cut by the Pittsburgh Steelers as NFL clubs reached the 43-player level, three over the limit for season openers in two weeks.

Huarte lost valuable practice time with the Jets while training for the College All Star game last month. He was named the most valuable player in the game against the NFL champion Cleveland Browns but was unable to make up the lost time when he rejoined the Jets.

"Huarte was a victim of circumstances," New York Coach Weeb Ewbank said. "If Namath or any other quarterback came to camp late, he'd be under the same handicap. We couldn't work with three quarterbacks."

Among the other Jets cut loose were rookie halfback Bob Schweikert, who also had received a sizeable bonus, and defensive tackle Gordy Holz, a 1964 regular.

The AFL champion Buffalo Bills asked waivers on seven players, including tackle Jim Davidson and linebacker Al Atkinson, their Nos. 1 and 3 draft picks. The Jets immediately claimed Davidson and the Ohio State alumnus' name was withdrawn and placed on the Buffalo injured list.

Denver cut lend-lease quarterback Jacky Lee, obtained last season from Houston on condition that he be returned after this season. The Broncos also released five-year defensive back Jim McMillan.

Key Day For American Tattered Net Forces

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (UPI) —This could be the day when America's tattered tennis forces find out whether they have any real chance for their first U.S. singles' title in 10 years or whether it's going to be the same old Australian story again.

Aussie ace Roy Emerson, the defending champion and top-ranked amateur in the world, has won his first three matches here easily and is favored to make it four in a row in his fourth round match with France's Pierre Barthes today.

While the 29-year-old Emerson tangles with Barthes, all four of the United States' top hopefuls also will be in action and three of them are meeting tough, experienced foreigners.

Davis Cupper Marty Riessen of Evanston, Ill., figures to have the roughest fight on his hands against Spain's No. 1 player, Manuel Santana, and fifth - seeded Arthur Ashe of Richmond, Va. has no set-up either in Tom Koch, a powerful-hitting young Brazilian.

Ordinarily, seventh seeded Chuck McKinley of Port Washington, N.Y., would be considered a shoo-in against Mexican Davis Cupper Antonio Palafox but McKinley has been in semi-retirement and his game showed some weaknesses.

The fourth U.S. hope, Dennis Ralston of Bakersfield, Calif., faces Ron Holmberg of Highland Falls, N.Y., and should normally be its prime hope, but the disappointing, third seeded 23-year-old Californian didn't look impressive at all yesterday while beating fellow Davis Cupper Frank Froehling III of Coral Gables, Fla., 7-5, 4-6, 6-3, 6-3.

National League Pennant Race Has Reached Countdown Stage

CONNOLLY

You might say the 1965 National League pennant race has reached the countdown stage. All five contending teams are preparing to take off in a stretch drive unmatched in the annals of the circuit.

One by one the clubs can be expected to eliminate each other. It may take a full month, but it's a lead pipe cinch to happen. A winning streak of any consequence, by any of the leaders, will change the complexion of the fight.

The schedule for the balance of the season doesn't really favor any one particular club. Tail end clubs like the Mets, Houston and Chicago are "spoiler clubs" right now. They're not going anywhere themselves, but they are not conceding anything to the pace setters.

TODAY THE SF Giants came home to roost at Candlestick Park for a short spell. They have two games with Houston followed by four rough ones with the Chicago Cubs, including a double header Sunday afternoon.

The hand writing, concerning the Giants chances, should be on the wall at the conclusion of the Cubs series. Wherever the Giants are when they leave S.F. for a four game set to at Houston, then 3 at Milwaukee and windup at Cincinnati for a three-game scuffle, they should be in that spot at the finish.

On Sept. 24 when the Giants plant themselves for the remaining 10 games, the fans will be able to pretty well judge for themselves the ultimate outcome.

OF ALL THE daffy twists and twirls this year's flag chase has given the fans, the most exasperating has been the flip-flop Giant hitting tactics. They positively have been unpredictable, rising high one day and dropping in the basement the next. Not a semblance of consistency have they shown outside of an eight-game winning streak, which is unusual for a so-called power packed aggregation.

And nobody is to blame for it excepting the Giants' planning board big shots who over-rate them in the spring while underrating their opposition. The Giants started 2 players shy and wound up three, and, at times, four players short of being a well-balanced, healthy club.

All that can be said for the Giants is they can win it if they get any kind of respectable hitting. But they can't fool around much longer, being good one day and bad the next. The COUNT DOWN IS HERE.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA baseball writers have shown themselves to be anything but sympathetic in handling the Juan Marichal-John Roseboro mixup. They saw only one side of it from the beginning. But sports reporting wasn't always that way in southern California.

During the 1932 Olympic Games windup of the marathon, a Finnish runner, going around the next to last turn, elbowed an American trying to pass him. The crowd of more than 100,000 booed vociferously. But not for long.

BILL HENRY, Olympic, Games announcer, quickly called for attention and in a voice clear and firm remarked:

"YOU ARE BOOING A FOREIGN GUEST OF THE USA."

The booing stopped, immediately.

It might be well for L.A. sports writers of this era to apply some of Henry's sportsmanship to Juan Marichal, "a foreign guest of the USA."

Marichal couldn't kick him in the shins on account he was wearing shin guards, and the chest protector kept Marichal from kicking him in the stomach. So he fly-swatted him with the bat.

Marichal has apologized. His apology has never been accepted.

Fighter Remains In Coma

LONDON (AP) — Doctors fought today to revive Mexican featherweight Jesus Saucedo, still in a coma 11 hours after being knocked out in a boxing match.

A spokesman for Atkinson Morley Hospital said the boxer remained unconscious this morning and his condition showed little change.

Saucedo was carried from the ring on a stretcher last night after he was knocked out in the fourth round of his scheduled six-round fight with Scotland's John O'Brien.

Another 1st For Giants' Willie Mays

CINCINNATI (AP) — For the fourth time in his career, Willie Mays has been named the National League's Player of the Month.

This is two more times than anybody else has received the honor, and the San Francisco outfielder also has the distinction of being the only player to be selected unanimously since the award was set up in 1958.

Mays batted .363 last month and drove in 29 runs in 31 games to keep the Giants in the pennant battle. He also hit 17 home runs, breaking the league record of 16 set by Ralph Kiner in August, 1949.

The Player of the Month is picked by 50 writers and sportscasters. The most votes any previous player received was Billy Williams of the Chicago Cubs, who collected 41 votes in May, 1964.

Nicklaus, Lema Start Defense

MADRID (UPI)—Jack Nicklaus and Tony Lema, defending the Canada cup for America, today face golfers from 37 nations in their quest to retain the trophy for 1965.

The only other international golf tournament to be held on the slick and fast course was the Spanish Open championship.

Spain, hosting the estimated $200,000 tournament, is the dark horse most likely to challenge America, officials agreed.

Twins, White Sox Open Crucial Series

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago White Sox let the big one get away from them last night in a display of pitching futility which is rare for Al Lopez' corps.

The White Sox, who face the league-leading Minnesota Twins for the final time this season in a two-game set beginning tonight, scored four runs in the first inning but before the game was over the Cleveland Indians had carved out a 9-5 triumph.

The loss dropped the Sox five games behind the Twins.

Ordinarily, the White Sox can win a pair of games with four runs and usually Lopez would be doing a slow burn over blowing such a lead.

"Sure it was a big game for us," said Lopez. "They're all big and all losses are hard to take. But we simply didn't have the pitching and when you don't have the pitching any lead can be overcome.

"I used seven pitchers in the doubleheader Monday," said Lopez. "It was obvious (Juan) Pizarro didn't have it. I went for Tommy John hoping he'd give me a couple of good innings before going for the knuckleballers. But John didn't have it, either.

"We have to beat the Twins twice now but even if we had beaten Cleveland we still would have to win twice from Minnesota," he added.

Elsewhere in the American League, Baltimore swept New York 4-2 and 9-5 and Detroit trimmed Boston 5-3.

The loss was tough to take for the White Sox in one respect — utility infielder Chico Salmon. It was Salmon's homer with the bases-loaded that capped a five-run inning and pushed the Tribe ahead to stay.

Salmon came into the game with a .242 average. He had hit two previous home runs and had only six runs-batted-in. All three of his homers and nine of his 10 RBI have come at the expense of the White Sox.

It looked as if the Sox were going to pull within four games of Minnesota when they scored four times in the first inning as Moose Skowron broke an 0-for-20 slump with a run-scoring single. The Moose also contributed his 17th homer in the third inning to put Chicago ahead 5-1.

Cleveland, however, lashed out 17 hits — four by Rocky Colavito and three each by Chuck Hinton and Leon Wagner.

The Yankees' double loss to Baltimore extended their losing streak to seven, their longest since 1953, and put them within one loss or one Minnesota victory of being eliminated from the race.

The Orioles ran their winning string to seven, winning the opener behind Sam Bowens' two-run homer and taking the nightcap as Charley Lau drove in three runs with a double and a single and Boog Powell clouted a two-run homer.

Detroit snapped Boston's four-game winning streak, breaking a 3-3 tie in the seventh on John Sullivan's single and Ray Oyler's double. Norm Cash hit a two-run homer for the Tigers. Boston's Billy Monbouquette suffered his 18th defeat against eight victories.

NO QUESTION ON THIS PLAY

Jack Hiatt of the San Francisco Giants is tagged out by Los Angeles Dodger second baseman Jim Lefebvre between first and second during the third inning of last night's game in Dodger Stadium. Hiatt had singled to try to get the advancing Hart, Hiatt tried for second and was caught. (AP Wirephoto)

Cal Backs Battlinng For Positions

By JACK STEVENSON

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — Head and head battles rage for starting jobs as quarterback and halfback on the University of California football team and coach Ray Willsey wishes he had more such fights on his squad.

At halfback, Ted Parks from last year's frosh squad, and Lloyd Reist who was scholastically ineligible last year, are nip and tuck in the race for a starting assignment against Notre Dame on Sept. 18 at Berkeley.

"The competition is a great thing," said Willsey. "I just wish we had it at all 22 positions."

The Bears and just about every other major college football team will use the platoon system this fall with offensive and defensive alignments. Willsey points out that 14 of his leading 22 are either in new positions this fall or haven't been on the Cal varsity previously.

As the California squad worked out before the Skywriters tour of sports writers and sportscasters from the Pacific Coast yesterday, Berry and Parks showed to advantage.

Berry completed passes and showed dexterity in running, especially when the defense broke up planned plays. Parks, from Santa Ana, Calif., ripped off solid gains on the ground.

Willsey says the man who'll be No. 1 quarterback probably won't be announced until a couple of days before the Notre Dame opener. Berry appears the better runner. Hunt seems the more sure passer with the experience to run the club.

Reist, of Sacramento, opened as the No. 1 halfback but has been hampered by a hamstring muscle ailment which should be healed by the time the season starts.

Willsey says his club will be better than the one which had a 3-7 record last year. And California could surprise any club on the Coast.

Gone is All Conference quarterback Craig Morton who set passing records. Gone also is the flanker T formation used to utilize his talents to their best. Instead the Bears will have a slot T with all four backs in position to run with the football.

Willsey sees a stronger defense for California and hopes the running game will bring enough short gains for victories. Last year's regular fullback, Tom Relles, has been moved to the slot back position. Ron Minamide, who played a little in 1963 but none in 1964, has taken over at fullback.

Both Relles and Minamide are small—almost two of a size at 5-feet 9-inches and 185 pounds.

Defensively, the Bears have good linebacking with Steve Radich, Jim Phillips, Paul Hoeber and Jim Fetherston. Jerry Mosher, the flanker back on offense last year, has been moved to defensive safety.

A big plus could be speed as the Bears appear faster than in recent seasons. But although 15 lettermen are on the first two offensive units, only two backs, among the first two units are lettermen—Hunt and Relles.

49ERS CUT SCOTTI; THREE MORE TO GO

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The San Francisco 49ers have placed veteran defensive back Ben Scotti on waivers. This and the trade of J. D. Smith and Leon Donahue to the Cowboys for future draft choices got the team down to the required 43-man squad.

Smith and veteran guard Donahue reported to Dallas yesterday.

"I'm ready to go," Smith said when he checked in at the Dallas camp. "I don't want to sit on the bench."

Smith said it was a shock to him to be traded to the Cowboys after playing with the 49ers eight years.

Scotti was acquired by the 49ers last year from the Los Angeles Rams. The final cut to the regular season 40-man squad will be made next Tuesday after the 49ers' weekend tilt with the Rams.

Toneoff Released

CARLISLE, Pa. (AP) — The Washington Redskins of the National Football League announced today the release of Bob Toneff, 13-year veteran defensive tackle, and second-year flanker back Joe Hernandez.

Dodgers Pass 2 Million Mark

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Los Angeles Dodgers have passed the 2,000,000 mark in home attendance — 2,048,099 to be exact—for the fourth straight year and the sixth since they came to Los Angeles in 1958.

No other major league baseball team can claim such a record, said the Dodgers. The New York Yankees have exceeded 2,000,000 five times.

The 1965 attendance is for 67 games on 64 dates. The new mark was set when 48,576 paid watched the Dodgers and San Francisco Giants last night.

Wosser Takes Lead In Yacht Racing Series

Jake Wosser of the San Francisco Yacht Club of Belvedere forged to the lead in the International One Design Class world championships yesterday by winning the second race of the series on San Francisco Bay.

Wosser covered the 12-mile course in 1 hour, 17 minutes and 47 seconds to take a slim lead over Ingar Doubloug of Outer Oslo Fiord, Norway. Wosser was third Monday and Doubloug second Monday and third yesterday.

In the reserve point scoring system, Wosser has 3¾ points to 5 for Doubloug. Larry Grinnell, the other San Francisco Bay representative in the series, is tied for third with 9 points.

Wosser's closest rival yesterday, William John of Long Island Sound, ran into trouble at the leeward mark of the first lap. He was getting ready for the second windward leg when his boat's boom snapped. David Rockefeller Jr., who won the Monday race, ripped loose a jib winch in another mishap, and another yacht lost a halyard cheek block off the mast.

Because of all the misfortunes, Pat Kirrance, head of the race committee, called off the second of the day's heats. Two races were to be sailed today.

Jake Wosser, San Francisco 1:37.47 (3¾ points); Soren Wiese, Norway 1:38.28 (9); Ingar Doubloug, Norway 1:38.51 (5); Larry Grinnell, San Francisco 1:39.56 (9); Peter Richold, Bermuda 1:40.50 (11); Don Macintosh, Marblehead, Mass. 1:40.59 (19); Phillip Lord, Marblehead, Mass. 1:41.36 (19); Nat Butterfield, Bermuda 1:41.47 (19); Kalle Nergaard, Norway 1:42.14 (19); Orison McPherson, Long Island Sound 1:42.29 (14); Bernt Aaby, Norway 1:43.24 (19); David Rockefeller Jr., Northeast Harbor, Maine 1:43.33 (12); William John, Long Island Sound broke down when in third place—series points to be determined.

Novato Rated Powerful Marin Grid Contender

All-League Ace Otis To Work Behind Vet Line

(First in a series on prospects of Marin Athletic League football teams.)

By GLENN BECKER

Some coaches are never satisfied, no matter how many flashy halfbacks and bruising linemen they have. But Novato coach Harry Moore isn't going to let himself be upset—yet—by the absence of blinding speed in the backfield.

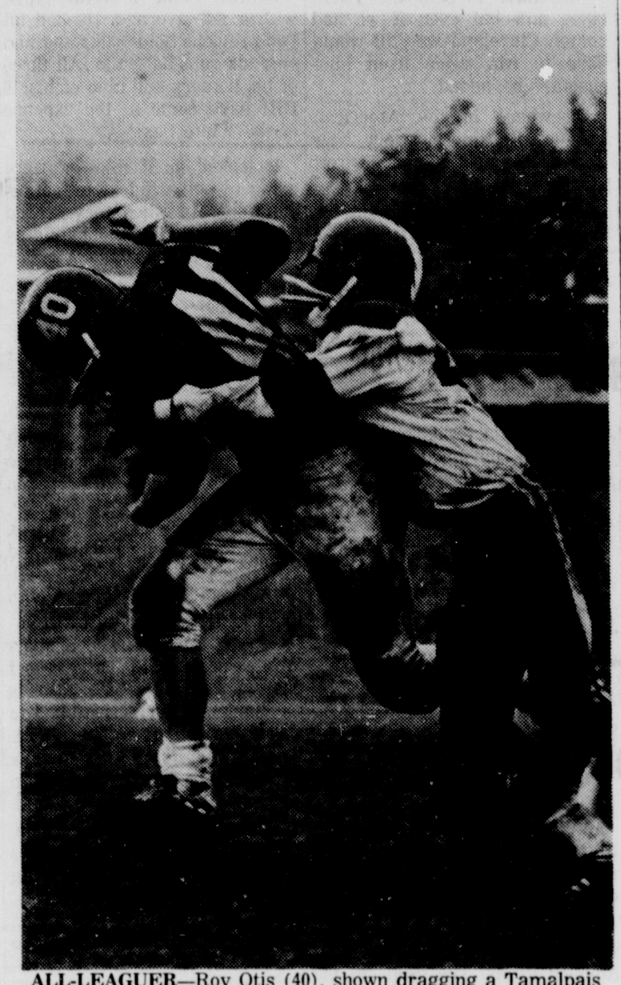
Mighty temperate of him, too. He's only got an all-Marin County Athletic League halfback and a large, bruising sophomore fullback operating behind a big, veteran line. With good depth and two capable quarterbacks, he may be able to overlook the speed "problem."

On paper, the Hornets look quite imposing. Their brightest star is tailback Dick Otis, a versatile all-league star who combined power with quickness to gain more than 800 yards last season. Moore says Otis "should be even better this year, because he is stronger and smarter." This should be comforting news for other MCAL coaches.

Otis, of course, was plenty good enough last year. One key to his success, however, has been lost and Moore must find another like it if his "I" formation is to succeed.

That would be fullback Ron Rowell, who also played linebacker and performed capably in that position in the recent North-South Marin All-Star Game. In the fullback lines up behind the quarterback and right in front of the tailback. Rowell's blocking often made Otis's path downfield smoother by the margin of one linebacker.

No wonder, then, that when talking of Otis, Moores says, "He has a wide stance when he is running so that even when he gets hit he maintains his balance; so if we can find another Ron Rowell he may gain over 800 yards this year."



ALL-LEAGUER—Roy Otis (40), shown dragging a Tamalpais tackler along with him in game last year, is back again to lead the Novato High offense in the 1965 season. An All-Marin League selection last year, Otis should be better than ever—which is going some! (Independent-Journal photo)

Sims, Coots Top Candidates

The two top candidates for Rowell-back this year are 193-pound sophomore Jerry Sims and 150-pound Bill Coots. Coots was first-string defensive wingback last year and despite his small stature, Moore says, "He hits hard and has that quick start." Of Sims, the coach says, "This boy hits real hard. He's very eager with fair speed and he's going to make a good back."

The quarterback post is a key one in any T-formation offense, which the "I" is essentially despite the opportunity it affords for single wing-type power thrusts. Novato lost capable Don Phillips to graduation and Moore is officiating a tight battle for the starting post between 1964 second-stringer Harold Fain and jayvee John Dolinsek.

According to Moore, both are good passers and if he considers one to be superior to the other, he isn't tipping his hand yet. Asked which he would start if he had a game tomorrow, he said, "I'd flip a coin."

Dolinsek, taller at 6-3 than the 5-10 Fain, is also a good kicker and may do the punting for Novato. This may prove to be an important factor in the fortunes of this Hornet team, which normally does not expect to strike for long-yardage touchdowns.

Probably Novato's best pass receiver will be Tom Corder, who played defensive safety last season and will switch to left end this year. He stands about 6-1 and "has real good moves," according to Moore. Another dangerous pass catcher is Everett Fritz, who didn't play last year due to a pre-season injury.

Young Leads Offensive Line

The Hornet offensive line features the explosive blocking of 5-11, 220-pound right tackle John Youngs. Their bread-and-butter play, Moore frankly stated, is "Otis over Youngs. He moves fast. He could play fullback, tight end or split end or anywhere, but I don't want to weaken that line."

The other tackle on offense is 6-1, 195-pound Bob Saunders, who has, in the opinion of his coach, "all-league potential. He's a tough boy. He has really shown well the first week of practice."

One guard spot is likely to be filled by 185-pound Greg Sulser, who was first string middle guard on defense last season. The other guard may be Jerry Gaeir (190 pounds) or Bob Dobbs (170). Both played on the undefeated Hornet jayvees last year and both have good speed for linemen, Moore says.

The starting center probably will be Ray Hill, but Moore wants to see the 5-11 senior melt 15-20 pounds from his 210 frame. Hill also plays linebacker.

Other Hornets who will see a lot of service, probably as first stringers, are 210-pound defensive tackle George Homenko, end-halfback Dennis Hachmyer, end George Sheehan and defensive wingback Jim Miner. Moore is also high on a quick little rabbit of a halfback named Frank Perachiotti. "He stands 5-6 and weighs 140 pounds dripping wet, but he scored 15 touchdowns for the jayvees and he could be one of the best backs in the league," Moore said, relishing the thought of a breakaway run or two.

Moore is in his first year as head coach at Novato. He directed the football misfortunes of Marin Catholic for two years. Obviously he is not at all unhappy with the prospects of his boys this year, but he voices respect for several other potential contenders for the MCAL title.

Tam, Redwood Rated Darkhorses

"I think Drake will be tough again, they didn't lose that much (through graduation), and San Rafael impressed us last year. Terra Linda won't go downhill as much as people think. The two dark horses as I see it are Redwood and Tam; no one knows how good they will be. Tam has always got speed and Redwood has always got Troppmann (Giant coach Bob Troppmann).

"We'll be up there. I think it's going to be real tough. I don't look for anybody to go undefeated."

That would be quite a trick for the Hornets. They used to play relatively easy non-league opponents and then find themselves in tough against MCAL clubs, but this year they have lined up some pretty rugged outside games in addition to their league schedule. Petaluma on Sept. 24 and Westmoor on Oct. 9 promise to be very difficult arguments.

They play their first two league games against Terra Linda Oct. 2 and defending champion Drake two weeks later.

"By 5 in the afternoon Oct. 16," Moore said, "you're going to know where everybody stands. If we can get by Terra Linda and Drake in those first two games, then our boys will have momentum."

Novato is the only school other than Redwood and Drake to win an MCAL football crown. The Hornets won the title in 1961 and they appear to have a good shot at another one in 1965.

The schedule:

Saturday, Sept. 18, College Park (Concord) at Novato, 2 p.m.
Friday, Sept. 24, at Petaluma, 8 p.m.
Saturday, Oct. 2, Terra Linda at Novato, 2 p.m.
Saturday, Oct. 9, Westmoor (South San Francisco) at Novato, 2 p.m.
Saturday, Oct. 16, Drake at Novato, 2 p.m.
Saturday, Oct. 23, Tamalpais at Kentfield, 2 p.m.
Saturday, Oct. 30, Redwood at Kentfield, 2 p.m.
Saturday, Nov. 6, San Rafael at Novato, 2 p.m.
Saturday, Nov. 13, Marin Catholic at Kentfield, 8 p.m.

Swarm Brothers Top Softball Statistics

With a healthy .343 average, Morey Swarm was the leading hitter for Sohner Tree Service softballers of San Anselmo this season, team officials disclosed yesterday.

Other .300 hitters for Sohner were John Brookman (.338), Ed Schulze (.337) and Gary Swarm (.304).

Brookman scored the most runs (31) and collected the most hit (47) while Dan George led in runs batted in with 21.

Gary Swarm, Morey's brother, was the most effective pitcher for Sohner, posting an 18-4 record and a 1.61 earned run average. Morey Swarm had a 14-7 mark and a 1.76 ERA and ageless Lou Perazzo was 3-0 with a 1.93 ERA.

High spot of the season was the dramatic victory in the District Finals at Santa Rosa which sent the Treemen to the State Tournament in Hayward, a feat no Marin team had accomplished in 17 years.

The Treemen defeated Monterey in their debut in the State Tourney, then bowed to Redwood City and Redding.

Keane Will Be Rehired

NEW YORK (AP) —Johnny Keane, first-year manager of the slump-ridden New York Yankees, will be signed to a one-year contract to manage the team again in 1966, The Associated Press learned last night.

A source close to Keane said the grey-haired, 53-year-old pilot already has agreed to terms with the Yankees and only the formal signing remains.

There has been widespread published speculation that Keane would be fired because of the 1965 decline of the Yanks.

He took over a team that had won 14 American League pennants in the last 16 years and was shooting for a record sixth straight. But it seems destined for a sixth-place finish—lowest in 40 years.

The team has been hampered by a vast run of injuries. Elston Howard missed a couple of months. Roger Maris has been an infrequent starter. Mickey Mantle has been in and out of the line-up. Tony Kubek has been injured.

Clete Boyer, the Yankee third baseman and player representative, recently enumerated the injuries and absolved Keane of any blame in the Yankee fall.

The quiet, thoughtful Keane came to New York just days after leading the St. Louis Cardinals to a World Series victory over the Yankees last fall.

He succeeded Yogi Berra, fired after one year as manager. Berra later went to the New York Mets.

Keane has been in baseball for 35 years, and a manager for 25. He went to the Cardinals in midseason of 1961.

SAN GERONIMO'S GOLF LINKS OPENS SEPT. 21

The new San Geronimo National golf course will be open to the public Sept. 21, with Tom McHugh, former pro at the defunct Tanforan course in San Mateo, taking over the head pro duties at the new Marin links.

McHugh, 36, moved his family to Marin County just last week. He was the pro (civilian) at Fort Ord golf course prior to taking over at Tanforan where he worked for three and one-half years.

Golfing has been in the McHugh family for three generations. Tom's grandfather built the Lincoln course in San Francisco and his father was a pro at a Salt Lake City, Utah, course before his death in 1950. The new San Geronimo course pro was literally born on a golf course, in the home in which his parents lived on the Salt Lake City course.

McHugh, who stands six feet and weighs 230 pounds, tried the Professional Golfers Assn. West Coast tour for about three years in the late 1940's while living in Salt Lake City.

His assistant at San Geronimo will be Bob Ellsworth, assistant to Bob Rosburg for a few years at the Meriwether National course in Portland, Ore. San Geronimo and Meriwether are two of four courses owned by National Golf Courses, Inc., with William W. Saunders of Honolulu, Hawaii, the president. The other two courses owned by National are Colwood National in Portland, and Sonoma National in the North Bay.

Press opening for the new course is Sept. 20, followed by the public opening the next day. The clubhouse will probably not be completed until March or April of next year, McHugh said.

Puerto Rican Pasarell Has U.S. Tennis Citadel Abuzz

By MILTON RICHMAN

FOREST HILLS, N. Y. (UPI) —Here in this prim, private citadel of the fuzz-covered ball, people tend to be rather narrowminded.

All they think or talk about is one thing — tennis. To hear them go on, you'd think there was no other sport in the world.

Boxing, to them, is too brutal. Football is a contest involving 22 assorted cave men pushing each other around between chalk stripes, and as for baseball, well, they never even bother discussing it because that's a game in which people are even rude to the umpire.

Pasarell comes from Santurce, Puerto Rico, which made him eligible for the U.S. Davis Cup team. He didn't make it, but the reason he has drawn all the attention is because he knocked off second seeded Fred Stolle of Australia on Sunday.

It might shock some of the Forest Hills' patrons to discover that although Pasarell has been playing tennis since he was eight years old, he had to divorce himself from a baseball background first.

"In Puerto Rico, where I come from, baseball is our national game," said the blond, six-footer, toweling himself in the clubhouse after a shower.

"I used to play a lot of baseball in high school," he added.

"I played the outfield and I hit pretty good," he said. "Of course, I wasn't another Clemente or Cepeda and to tell the truth, I never took baseball too seriously."

That was because Chuck was born into a tennis family. His father, Charles, Sr., even played here in the championships some years back but never got very far.

"My ambition is to become the No. 1 tennis player in the world," said Pasarell. "I think I can. When I say that I don't mean it to sound as if I'm bragging, but it has been my ambition ever since I started playing tennis."

As long as Australian kingpin Roy Emerson is on the scene, Pasarell will have trouble fulfilling his goal but there are those who believe the slender but well-muscled Puerto Rican may overtake him in time.

They point to the fact that Pasarell already beat Emerson for the Pennsylvania State Championship at Merion, Pa., in July after having defeated Stolle in the same tournament. Then there was his second victory over the Aussies' No. 2 man last Sunday.

At the moment, Pasarell has a fine future ahead of him and that entire future, of course, is tennis.

"I really love the game," he said, "and I'm going to play it as long as I can.

"I've played a lot of other games, too. Baseball, football, basketball and volleyball, but in my mind, none can compare with tennis."

Raiders Make Final Cuts As Deadline Hits

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — Defensive back Tommy Morrow and defensive tackle Dalva Allen — honored as all - league choices in 1963—were placed on waivers yesterday by the Oakland Raiders of the American Football League.

Fullback Bobby Jackson, acquired from the Houston Oilers last season, and Keith Kinderman, a halfback picked up this year from the San Diego Chargers, also were released.

The cuts brought the Raider roster to the AFL's 38-player limit.

SCALLOPED CHEESE 'N' Tuna combine for a feast that will delight the whole family. As a mainstay of meatless menus, cheese contributes good quality and quantity protein; teamed with hard-cooked eggs and tempting tuna, it triples in taste and nutrients.

A Family Feast— Cheese And Tuna

Economical meals without meat, but with fine flavor, put a feather in any cook's cap. By using cheese, it's an accomplishment within the reach of all.

SCALLOPED Cheese 'N Tuna does just this—and deliciously so. Nonfat dry milk and seasonings blend with shredded process American cheese in a smooth creamy sauce. Then, the trio of sauce, eggs and tuna is alternately layered 'til it fills a low baking dish. Just 20 minutes in a moderate oven and, presto, the family can feast on fish and cheese.

SCALLOPED CHEESE 'N TUNA

(Makes 5 to 6 servings)

½ cup butter or Danish Margarine
½ cup chopped green pepper
1 tablespoon Dehydrated Minced Onion
½ teaspoon salt
¼ cup flour
⅔ cup Borden's Starlac nonfat dry milk
1¾ cups water
2 cups processed American Cheese, shredded (¼ of 2 pound loaf)
3 (7-oz.) cans flaked tuna fish
6 hard-cooked eggs, sliced.

In a medium-size saucepan, over medium heat, melt butter. Add green pepper, onion and salt; saute until tender. Blend in flour. Sprinkle nonfat dry milk over water; stir to blend. Gradually stir milk into vegetable-flour mixture. Stir constantly and cook until thickened and smooth. Add cheese; stir until melted. In a 12x7x7½x 2-inch baking dish, make a layer of tuna fish, hard-cooked egg slices and cheese sauce; repeat to make second layer. Bake in a moderate (350° F.) oven for 20 minutes, or until light golden brown. If desired, one or two egg yolks may be reserved and used to sieve over top of finished casserole as a garnish.

TOMATO-RAISIN CHUTNEY

1½ pounds tomatoes, skinned and diced
1 large green pepper, diced
1 large onion, diced
1 cup raisins
1-inch piece candied ginger, minced
1 cup sugar
½ cup cider vinegar
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon dry mustard
⅛ teaspoon cayenne

In a kettle, mix together all the ingredients. Cook and stir often over low heat until thick —about 1 hour. Pack into sterilized jars and seal. Makes four ½ pints.

Soft Meringue Is Enhanced By Being Served With Fruit

One part of our philosophy of cooking: when you come upon a really good recipe, stick to it — and try it out in all its forms and variations.

Some years ago one of our sisters, dining out, tasted a simple but lovely soft meringue, and she was lucky enough to find the recipe for the dessert on the back of the restaurant menu. We baked the meringue, as suggested in the original recipe, in a large pan and then cut it into portions.

BUT RECENTLY my sister decided that it was time to change the form of this really good recipe — that it would be convenient to have the dessert baked in individual servings. Then if just a few people were present when it was offered, only that number of meringues would have to be served; the rest could repose, undespoiled, in the refrigerator until they were needed. On testing, the idea turned out to be a good one, and you'll find it incorporated in the following recipe.

One caution: the trick in turning these meringues out of the individual baking dishes (custard cups) is to chill them before doing so. After refrigeration, they slide out easily.

This soft meringue is enhanced by being served with fruit. Up to now we've chosen fresh or frozen strawberries or raspberries, or a combination of cherries and strawberries for an accompanying sauce. This year we have enjoyed sliced fresh peaches.

INDIVIDUAL SOFT MERINGUE WITH FRESH PEACHES

1 cup milk
2 tablespoons cornstarch
¼ cup sugar
⅓ cup flaked or shredded coconut
4 large egg whites (½ cup)
¼ teaspoon cream of tartar
Sweetened sliced fresh peaches

In a medium saucepan, gradually stir the milk into the cornstarch, blending until smooth. Cook and stir constantly over medium heat until mixture is smooth and thickened and comes just to a boil. Remove from heat. Stir in sugar, salt and coconut. Cool slightly. Beat egg whites and cream of tartar until they hold stiff straight peaks when beater is slowly raised. Fold in cooled sauce. Turn into 8 ungreased (6-ounce) custard cups filling to about ¼-inch from top. Place in a pan of hot water. Bake in a slow (325 degrees) oven until puffed and lightly browned—about 40 minutes. Cool; chill. Run a small spatula around edges and turn out; do not try to unmold the meringues until after chilling. Serve with sweetened sliced fresh peaches. Makes 8 servings.— (AP)

Stuffing Celery

Seasoned Casserole Unites Stuffing, Pepper, Parsley

As a hostess you will want to make the menu a simple fare. Use convenience foods and prepare many dishes ahead of time. Packaged herb-seasoned stuffing, the fine particle kind with its flavorful blend of herbs and spices, makes a quick and easy casserole. Serve along with broiled lobster tails, a crisp green salad, and your favorite beverage.

QUICK 'N EASY SEASONED CASSEROLE

¼ lb. butter or margarine
1 cup water
1-8-ounce package herb-seasoned stuffing.
3 medium tomatoes cut in small wedges
½ cup chopped green pepper
2 teaspoons snipped parsley

In saucepan, melt butter in hot water. Add herb - seasoned stuffing, tomato wedges, green pepper, and parsley; toss together lightly. Spoon into a 1½ quart buttered casserole, cover, bake in moderate oven (350° F.) 20 to 25 minutes. Remove cover during last 5 minutes of baking. Garnish with lemon twist if desired. Makes 8 to 10 servings.

A CASSEROLE that combines broiled lobster tails, crisp green salad, and your favorite beverage makes the menu a simple fare. Herb-seasoned stuffing makes a quick and easy casserole.

LOCATED ACROSS FROM AMERICAN DISTILLERIES

FASHIONED FOR THE OPERA SEASON

Patou emphasizes the importance of black and white in a stunning evening ensemble, at left, of white matelasse of Celanese Arnel triacetate accented with black in fur and leather. The two-piece gown of this ensemble from the Celanese Paris Collection for fall and winter 1965 is belted in black leather. A dickey of black mink rises from the deep V of the bodice to a high collar. The ensemble is completed with a sweeping floor-length reversible coat of black leather and white matelasse. Castillo chose gleaming white Arnel satin for a stunning evening ensemble, center. The superbly simple gown is topped with a hip-length jacket trimmed with zigzag stripes of black jet beading. Slit pockets at the hips and a wide jet choker provide the only detail on the chaste princess line of the high-necked gown. At right, a magnificent ensemble in satin by Ricci from the Paris Collection combines peacock blue with cyclamen. The strapless ball gown has a draped bodice with panels crossing in back and ending in a bow at the hip. The regal evening coat is lined in the cyclament satin of the dress.

SEXUAL REVOLUTION

Views Of Those Advocating Sex Education In Schools

EDITOR'S NOTE: Sex education is non-existent in many schools. Others have only limited courses. Several organizations advocate franker approaches to the problem. Their views and those of several experts are reviewed in this dispatch, the last in a series of five.

By PATRICIA McCORMACK
United Press International

Premarital sex has a variety of meanings. It can symbolize a struggle for independence, a reach toward maturity, a desire to keep up with the crowd.

It can be a means of expressing rejection of parents, teachers or church leaders. It can be an expression of loneliness and a wish for affection. It also occurs as an aspect of the commitment of a couple soon to be married.

These are some of the points that might be made and discussed in a sex education course.

They cover views which Helen F. Southard, psychologist and educator, airs sometimes when discussing sex with teen-agers nationwide. She listens, too, giving the youngsters a chance to ask and discuss in an atmosphere of freedom.

Mrs. Southard is assoiate director, Bureau of Research and Program Resources for the National Board, Young Women's Christian Assn. It is considered a forerunner in the area of helping to develop meaningful sex education.

She participated in preparation of a sex booklet published by the American Medical Assn. She is a board member of the newly formed Sex Information and Education Council of the United States.

AMONG ITS OBJECTIVES: To create a climate in which open dialogue concerning sexual perplexities and uncertainties may take place. There is special concern that such an interchange be established between youth and adults, and between youth and youth.

Through these various disciplines, it eventually will establish a clearing house for research and education in sex, as a forum where various aspects of sexuality can be considered in dignified and objective fashion.

Dr. Mary S. Calderone, executive director of SIECUS, maintains that in the revolt from the puritan tradition that sex is bad and in the effort to let children know that sex is good—"we have done a half-baked job."

"Sex must not only be accepted but understood, respected and protected," she recently told the National Congress of Parents and Teachers.

"Sex is a gift from God, and our new theme must be that man's sexuality is an essential force in his life and that his total well-being will depend on the use he makes of this force.

"As the late great Pope John said about his church, we should open the window and let in the fresh air."

In her dealings with teen-agers nationwide (the YWCA has 400,000 members) Mrs. Southard has found great variations within an age group in the level of sex information.

"But there has been a trend toward more sophisticated questioning," she said.

To help guide those discussing sex with teen-agers, Mrs. Southard is coordinating production of a new teaching record. It provides materials and suggestions for a sex morality program.

"Studies show," she said, "that sex education does not encourage sex activity."

Sweden is one of the few countries in the world where sex education and family life education is compulsory in the schools. The courses cover everything from basic biology to how to deal with the in-laws.

In-between there are discussions on leisure time, legal aspects of marriage, the wife's career or job, child raising, cooperation in the home.

Birgitta Linner who authored a Swedish institute publication on "Society and Sex in Sweden" recently told an American scientific audience in New York:

"I will point out what I as a Scandinavian feel when looking at the United States.

"Certainly a more open and frank debate is to be desired. The price for not teaching birth control to young people should be realistically weighed against the price for teaching it.

She said that among 13 American books on sex on her shelf, she did not find a single word about birth control.

Two that do include something about the subject:

—"What To Tell Your Children About Sex" (Duell, Sloan and Pearce), prepared by the Child Study Assn. of America.

—"Why Wait Till Marriage" (Association Press), Evelyn Millis Duvall. The book details the reasons for premarital chastity, frank and specific, for today's youth.

TIME WILL TELL what shape sex education will take in the schools as a part of the broader context of family life education for the younger generation.

Sex education, which many experts believe should be compulsory in schools, still is, relatively speaking, in the horse and buggy stage.

There is disagreement among leaders, educators and parents about how to develop freedom with responsibility in the area of sex and values. At least they are discussing. So are teen-agers, college and high school.

Out of it, the experts feel, might come hope for more stability in marriage and family life.

Washing Is Now So Much Easier

NEW YORK (UPI — Turn-of-the-century wives scrubbed their clothes and linens against washboards in zinc tubs — after the wash soaked overnight and before it was boiled to make sure it was clean.

A type of washing machine was introduced early in the 1900s, but it had to be filled manually. Since there was no such thing as an agitator device, the washing just sat in a solution of water, soap, alkali, and essense of turpentine. A few years later, an electric-powered model was marketed, but still without the agitator which did not put in an appearance until 1922.

Dominican Alumnae To Give Awards At Luncheon Meeting

May of this year marked the 115th graduation at the Dominican Convent, the oldest school for girls in California, having started with the state in 1850. The upper and Lower Grades are re-locating in the near future on their new Sleepy Hollow campus. To avoid confusion with the San Rafael campus, which will be used exclusively by Dominican College, the Sisters are changing the name of the school to San Domenico School for Girls. The Dominican Alumnae annual luncheon will be held in Hawthorne Court for the last time on Sept. 18. The 1966 luncheon will be the first to be held on the new campus at Sleepy Hollow.

DURING THE luncheon the distinguished alumna award will be presented to Sister Mary Thomas, O.P. and to Mrs. Dewey Donnell (Jean Bolton) of Sonoma. Sister Mary Thomas, Class of 1905, was formerly president of Dominican College. In addition to her dedicated and active support of the new campus building program, Jean Donnell is known in the Bay Area for her many philanthropic enterprises.

Alumna Mrs. Edwin Callan (Georgina Hopkins) is doing an oil painting of the old Victorian administration building which will be unveiled at the luncheon and which will hang in the main entry of Mercedes Hall at the new campus.

Stretch Slipcovers Update Living Room

NEW YORK (UPI) — If you feel an urge to update the living room, and without drastic or permanent redecorating, consider stretch slipcovers, home economists suggest.

GOLDEN WEDDING

They Met At Fair Over 50 Years Ago

She was a young girl from Germany and he was a youth from Bavaria when they met at the Panama - Pacific International Exposition in San Francisco in 1915.

They are now Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Pfeffer of 621 E Street, San Rafael, who will celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary tomorrow.

"It was German Day at the fair when we met," said Mrs. Pfeffer. "Two months later we were married."

Pfeffer had arrived in San Francisco in 1902 with two cousins. Mrs. Pfeffer arrived in 1909, alone.

After their marriage they moved to San Rafael, where he first worked in a grocery store and later bought the business.

"We had a saloon and grocery store, but then came prohibition and the saloon went out," Mrs. Pfeffer said.

The Pfeffers operated the grocery store together until 1945, when they retired. "We were on our own and we worked hard," Mrs. Pfeffer said.

The toughest haul was during the depression of the 1930s, when they had "hard times, but good customers . . . a lot of railroad people . . . some of them were customers for 30 years," Mrs. Pfeffer said.

As for making a marriage last for 50 years, Mrs. Pfeffer said "you have to give and take."

Governor's Pocket Veto Makes Him Too Powerful

The power of the Governor to kill legislation by pocket veto may be ended next year. We hope it is.

The question will be on next year's ballot, to be decided by majority vote of the people.

The normal veto power, invested in the Governor, is authority enough. To add to that the power of pocket veto is too much concentration of authority in one man.

Normal veto works like this: During the legislative session, when the Governor does not approve a bill, he may either sit on it without action or veto it.

If he does not act within 10 days after receiving the bill, it becomes law without his signature. But if he vetoes it and sends it back with a statement of his objections, it will take two-thirds votes in both houses to over-ride the veto.

Forcing both houses to reconsider a bill, and requiring them to pass it with two-thirds majority, gives plenty of teeth to executive authority.

But pocket veto goes beyond this. It occurs toward the close of a legislative session. If a bill reaches the governor less than 10 days before adjournment, the Governor has 30 days after adjournment to act on the bill.

If he does not act in that period, then the bill dies. This is called the pocket veto, because the Governor, by merely putting it in his pocket, can kill the bill without indicating his objections.

The Legislature is powerless against this pocket veto because it has already adjourned. There is no opportunity to over-ride the veto.

The proposed Constitutional amendment would eliminate the pocket veto. At the close of the general session, it would require the Legislature to recess for 30 days, then reassemble for up to five days to act on any vetoes that were imposed after the end of the regular session.

The amendment does not deprive the Governor of the veto itself. It merely forces the governor to state his reasons for vetoing a bill, and the Legislature a chance to strike back at the veto if two-thirds of both Houses are so inclined.

EIGHT STEPS TO A SMOOTH CHANGEOVER

The publication gave these eight tips:

1. Explain why the change is necessary.
2. Have people submit ideas of their own.
3. Don't take people by surprise.
4. Never minimize the difficulties involved.
5. Give people reasonable goals.
6. Gain the cooperation of unofficial leaders.
7. Be sincere but generous with your praise.
8. Allow time for people to get used to changes.

In any field of human endeavor, from the family circle to the business office or the great areas of public life, a little advance planning for necessary changes can go a long way.

If you truly respect the intelligence, freedom and personality with which God has endowed each individual, you will seek ways to make reasonable adjustments that will benefit everybody.

(Matthew 5:17)

Help me to look at matters from the viewpoint of others, O Lord, so that I may better follow Your example.

SACRAMENTO SCENE

Unruh Doubts Legislature Can Pass Redistricting Bill Soon

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh, D-Inglewood, said he doubts that the Legislature will be able to pass a bill in a special session next month to draw new districts for the State Senate, despite a State Supreme Court order to get the job done by Dec. 9.

THE COURT ordered the Legislature to reapportion both houses, with new districts as nearly equal in population as possible, or accept a plan provided by the court. The court's plan would give Los Angeles County 15½ senators, compared to the single seat in the county at present.

The court plan would provide for 80 assemblymen from 62 districts and 40 senators from 30 districts. In districts with more than one senator or assemblyman, they would be elected at large and not from individual areas in the district.

The Legislature is expected to meet in special session on Oct. 11 to consider reapportionment and some other subjects. Both Unruh and Sen. Hugh M. Burns, D-Fresno, president pro tempore of the Senate, have agreed that, if a bill cannot be worked out in two or three weeks, it can't be worked out at all.

Unruh said there are several reasons why a reapportionment bill for the Senate will face serious difficulties in the special session:

1. The bill in the 1965 session, which finally was rejected by the Senate, would have given only 12 senators to Los Angeles County. By the court's inference, the county would be entitled to 15½ senators. Unruh said this meant the demise of at least 16 or 17 senators under any bill and the senators might decide to take a chance on the court's plan.

"If a man is told by his party that he has the choice between sure suicide and possible murder, he would choose the possible murder," Unruh said.

2. Partisan factors will be involved. There are some present members who would fare just as well under the court's plan, Unruh said. At-large election of senators and assemblymen would favor the party which elected a governor.

The Republicans, with control of neither house and only one state-wide officer, have everything to gain and nothing to lose in at-large elections. Unruh speculated that, under the court system, if a Republican governor were elected in 1966, the Senate no doubt would go Republican, too.

3. The general personality conflicts are likely to develop as legislation progresses. The court plan would combine two Assembly districts for each Senate district.

Unruh noted that, with no incumbent senator in the new districts, the assemblymen involved will feel they have as much right as anyone else to take part in drawing boundary lines for the new districts.

Immediate reaction to Unruh's comments was that there would be so much adverse reaction to the court's redistricting plan that the lawmakers would be certain to adopt a reapportionment plan within the allotted time.

Words On Riot In Los Angeles

Editor, Independent-Journal

You would do your readers a great service if you reprinted the Comments of Sausalito's William Winter on the Watts riots. He begins:

"It was brutal, wild, horrible and ugly, those outbreaks of violence in the Watts section of Los Angeles. But then every revolution is ugly and this was revolution. It may be the forerunner of more revolutionary outbreaks in other American cities — just as very similar causes may erupt into revolutions in other countries.

"Every society undergoes constant change. Once the change becomes noticeable enough, there is demand for more rapid change, and when there is not enough speed there is impatience; impatience can explode into violence—or into restrained, peaceful protest."

Join me, everyone who is sick and tired of having a "graduated" hunk of his Earned Income, without so much as a by-your-leave, tossed off to:

2. Psuedo - friendly nations that ship our enemies anything they can get money for.
3. An Anti-Poverty Program for insurrectionists.
4. And people who prefer the old Appalacian rockin' chair to the swing of the mad, mad world.
5. Education that perverts the minds of our children.
6. An indiscriminate Training Program for lazy, ungrateful brats.
7. A United Nations Organization for the Knights of the Communist Round Table.
8. A Supreme Court that has decided the Constitution and the Ten Commandments are outdated in this 20th Century.
9. Support of Socialism at home and Communism abroad.

Mill Valley School Took 'Step Backward'

Editor, Independent-Journal:

In effect, a minority of the board blocked the passage of a resolution to proceed with the proposed bond issue....

Six months of study and planning by the classroom needs committee and the architectural firm of Corlett and Spackman (plus a $6,000 fee) have gone down the drain. Now we are to have an imported, "impartial" expert study Mill Valley for another six months and tell us what kind of schools we want. (Superintendent McConnell, who could be considered an expert on his own district, said he felt the educational park concept would not be appropriate for Mill Valley.)

What is this new "educational park" idea we are hearing about suddenly from various quarters? It means one large school or cluster of schools on a single campus, to which all the children of a particular city or area are transported. In San Francisco an educational park has been proposed to house 100,000 children. I prefer the term "educational mill." If Mill Valley should build one, I propose it be named the George Orwell School.

Had the bond issue been approved by the board and subsequently passed on the November ballot, new school buildings would not have been open for use until fall of 1967. . . .

Assuming that Mill Valley voters would approve the idea of scrapping their neighborhood schools, selling the land, and passing a huge bond issue to build this educational Tomorrowland; assuming a suitable site could be found within district boundaries; assuming great speed in all these operations, it will still be September, 1968, at the earliest before the Orwell School will open its doors to Mill Valley children.

Education Today Flat Failure

Editor, Independent-Journal:

On Aug. 23 the U.S. Commissioner of Education dared educators to refute that today's public schools recruit poorly, select only safe textbooks and establish unsound educational standards that are producing functional illiterates. Those charges stand unrefuted.

Sidney Harris may have one reason why when he writes, "When an organization falters it is most often because of a weak chain of command in which subordinates were chosen for their docility rather than their aggressiveness."

Today's educational command has not only faltered, it has fallen flat. It is 12th Century feudalism steeping in ritualistic occultism wherein educational laws are cynically, contemptuously ignored and empires built unopposed.

So long as it continues to spawn degreed ignoramuses whose prime concern is job security it shall continue to produce functional illiterates.

All Roads Lead To Conference Table–If Hanoi Wants Peace

WASHINGTON — With the help of Sen. Mike Mansfield, D-Mont.—an Asian expert in his own right—President Lyndon B. Johnson has now opened all doors to a negotiated settlement of the war in Viet Nam.

SPEAKING FOR the White House as well as for himself, Senator Mansfield made it clear that all roads lead to the conference table and that by taking any one of them Hanoi can have peace instead of war.

There are three such roads to negotiation and all are acceptable to the U. S.:

1. We will go to the conference with or without a cease-fire, with or without a truce. We'll negotiate under either circumstance. Hanoi can choose. We prefer a cease-fire, but don't insist upon it.

2. We will go to the conference table without any advance commitment as to what either side would accept as a settlement. We would not be committed to the conditions which Hanoi might want. Hanoi would not be committed in any way to the conditions we would want. Namely, "unconditional discussions."

3. We are also willing to go to the conference table after a careful review of positions on both sides to see whether a basis for agreement is conceivable before formal discussions begin. Namely, conditional discussions, if Hanoi prefers it that way.

No door is closed. All avenues are open.

IT WAS AT this third door on which the Democratic Senate leader rapped the hardest.

Mansfield compared the objectives outlined by President Johnson in various speeches and the objectives set out by Hanoi on April 12. He found that on three out of four stated objectives both sides were in substantial agreement:

On the right of the people of South Viet Nam to have a government of their own choosing without violence or coercion from any quarter.

On the right of the people of North and South Viet Nam, on the basis of a peaceful, free, and verified plebiscite, to decide whether to unite or not to unite the two halves of the country.

EITHER SIDE might phrase these conditions of peace in different terms, but basically each side is saying the same thing. This is why Mansfield says he sees a "narrowing of the issues" and hopes that his effort to narrow the dispute will show Hanoi that there is a basis for early negotiation.

A wide difference does exist on one objective. Hanoi wants the Communist Viet Cong to have a decisive or major role in any government in South Viet Nam and the government of South Viet Nam doesn't want any part of the Viet Cong. That's what the war is all about. We're prepared to leave this issue to the verified decision of the people of South Viet Nam—if Hanoi is.

France Prepares For Atom Weapons Tests

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — France is completing extensive military and scientific preparations for its first atomic weapons tests in the South Pacific next month.

Slated to be tested are airborne bombs and warheads for Polaris-type submarine missiles ranging from 75 to 250 kilotons. A kiloton is equivalent to 1,000 tons of TNT.

THE FRENCH submarine missile, still being developed, is to have a range of 1,500 miles. The U. S. Polaris missile, now operational in a number of nuclear-powered submarines, has an 1,800 - mile range. Undergoing tests are more advanced missiles with ranges up to 2,600 miles and armed with thermonuclear warheads.

Under President Charles de Gaulle's grandiose $5.5 billion nuclear arms program, a megaton (1 million tons of TNT) thermonuclear bomb will not be tested until 1967.

Persistent serious design and development difficulties have hampered France's giant gaseous diffusion plant producing the enriched uranium required for thermonuclear weapons. The Pierrelatte plant is still operating at only a fraction of its planned capacity.

So far, France's costly nuclear arsenal consists of 18 75-kiloton atomic bombs and 30 Mirage 4 jet planes. For long-distance flights, this 1,500-mph medium range bomber has to be refueled in the air. As France has no aerial tankers, it had to buy them from the U. S.

The first of three nuclear-powered submarines will be launched by France later this years. Also, the keels of two more are being laid down.

SINCE FEBRUARY, 1960, when France detonated its first small kiloton device in the Sahara, it has conducted eight known above-ground and an estimated 15 underground tests there.

The underground tests were of tactical nuclear weapons, with which French ground forces are to be equipped by 1966. These relatively small arms are comparable to those the U. S. Army has had for years.

As previously reported in this column, Britain, under an arrangement with U. S. military and atomic authorities, is testing tactical weapons in the extensive underground facilities of the Nevada proving grounds. Britain does not have adequate means for such tests.

These are the first foreign tests here. U. S. officials are in general charge, but the tests are being conducted by British scientists with their own nuclear material.

De Gaulle and Portugal's long-time Premier Antonio De Oliveira Salazar have made a significant military barter deal.

IN RETURN FOR building four submarines and four frigates for Portugal on easy terms, the latter has given France long-time rights for a missile tracking station on Flores Island in the Azores. France also sold at bargain prices a number of helicopters to Portgual for military use in its embattled African colonies.

Despite the $9.5 billion the U. S. has given France in economic and military aid since 1945, the $6.4 billion France still owes the U. S. in World War I debts, and the more than $200 million the U. S. spends annually in France on North Atlantic Treaty Organization defenses to safeguard that country (dollars which de Gaulle uses to drain off more than $1 billion of our gold reserves), several weeks ago he virtually gave away to Cambodia a number of propeller-type combat planes France originally got from the U. S. and which this country sought to buy back for use in Viet Nam.

De Gaulle refused to sell them to us, but handed them over for a token payment to Cambodia.

Business Wins When Negroes Get Rights

By WHITNEY M. YOUNG JR.

The drive by Negro ctizens for full voting rights appears certain to have a tremendous positive impact on business in the South.

AT FIRST BLUSH, the confrontation at Selma, Ala., Bogalusa, La., Jackson, Miss., and in other Deep South cities would appear to have unsettling impact on their economies.

But in the long haul, the steady rise of the Negro vote in the South is the best friend which Southern business has—and the best friend of Southern whites, too.

The states and cities where Negroes vote without intimidation are among the most prosperous and bustling in the South. In places where Negroes dare not vote, business lags—and for good reason.

Their politicians, like Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama, who bar the polls to Negro citizens, make cheap political capital on the racial issue. Campaigns in the Democratic primaries for the highest offices in the state never focus on the issue of grinding poverty which besets the people—but on the myth of bloc Negro voting, intermarriage, state's rights—anything but reality.

MOREOVER, a governor who sets himself above the Constitution, who tolerates widespread lawlessness, who runs his state like a feudal fiefdom, inevitably is a man of, shall we say, foreshortened vision. Such men, set against letting Negroes vote, also oppose all efforts by Negroes to help themselves, to educate themselves, and to rise out of poverty, while at the same time claiming that Negroes are disinterested in helping themselves.

Earlier this year, for instance, when the National Urban League and local civic leaders of both races called an anti-poverty conference in Birmingham to find ways to help Negro citizens help themselves, Governor Wallace reportedly wired white mayors discouraging their participation.

Even though the conference attracted high federal officials and hundreds of Negro leaders from across the state, not one white mayor turned up even though a number had made advance registration plans.

Obviously, the pace of economic upgrade was set back; so was the purchasing power and prosperity of Negro citizens; so was the prosperity of the state's white residents.

However, if Negro leaders are successful in implementing the federal voting law to enable their followers to vote, Southern politicians will have to change their tune. The old days of turning a Democratic Party meeting into a kind of Ku Klux Klan rally with Southerners waving the old bloody flag of intermarriage is out. Cooperative interracial planning for mutual socio-economic educational advancement is in.

IF SOUTHERN leaders are obliged—by virtue of the Negro vote—not only to cease obstructing progress and justice but to advocate it if they seek to remain in office and win higher office, then business in the South is certain to prosper. An economy cannot thrive if half its contributors are prevented from contributing or turned into chronic, disgruntled dependents.

A new South is in the making, thanks in no small measure to Negro citizens and their allies. Its speed in coming will be determined in large measure by the courage and vision of Southern whites themselves.

CIA's Foreign Popularity High Since Rich Singapore Scandal

WASHINGTON—There are a lot of red faces in Washington these days because of last week's contretemps with the prime minister of Singapore, Lee Kuan Yew, who revealed in a press interview that he was offered a bribe of $3 million to hush up an American Central Intelligence Agency fiasco in 1961. Mr. Lee said he indignantly refused the money because he and his party could not be bribed, but he would consider an offer of $33 million instead.

The State Department denied the incident had ever taken place, so Mr. Lee produced a letter of apology written by Secretary of State Dean Rusk to him. State said there had been a misunderstanding over the denial, which, whether they liked it or not, confirmed Prime Minister Lee's story.

AMONG THE RED faces I saw last week was one belonging to the Enchiladan ambassador to the United States, who was dining alone at the Sans Souci.

I asked him why he was so upset.

"I am in trouble with my government because of Singapore."

"How is that? Singapore is not in South America."

"You do not understand. Four years ago there came to my country one of your CIA people who offered to bribe one of our officials for information about our government. He was arrested and thrown into jail. A few weeks later a high official from your government came to me and asked me how much it would cost to get him out of jail.

"I said $5,000. They offered $3,500, and I recommend to my country we take it. Now I am in trouble because they have read in the paper that the Singapore government was offered $3 million if they would release the CIA man there. My government is very angry with me because we sold out so cheaply."

"I SHOULD think they would be," I said.

"I am very disappointed with your State Department. We have always been very good friends of the United States and we should have got the going rate for CIA agents."

"That's what I told my government. But they said this is typical of American policy in Latin America. They will pay $3 million to hush up a scandal in the Far East but only $3,500 to hush up one in Latin America. What kind of an Alliance for Progress is this?"

"Did anyone offer you an explanation?"

"THEY TOLD ME that the CIA agent in Singapore was mixed up with a girl and that's why they had to pay more."

"But $3 million? She must have been some girl!"

"That's exactly what I was thinking. We have some beautiful women in our country, but $3 million—the mind boggles."

"What are you planning to do about it?"

"We are going to bring it up at the next OAS meeting. We are going to tell the United States that they can send all the CIA agents they want into Latin America, but they will have to pay $3 million for each one that gets caught. We can't cut our prices lower than Singapore."

"Did you tell Dean Rusk about it?"

"I WROTE HIM a letter, but his secretary wrote back and said Mr. Rusk has decided not to write letters any more—to anybody."

"It's probably a good policy," I agreed.

The ambassador got up to leave. "It's now up to the United States. Do you realize 100 inept CIA agents could resolve our balance of payments problem for two years?"

Board Seeks Wider Aid From State

The Marin County Board of Education last night battled against the trend toward having local school districts carry the financial load for programs ordered by the state.

Board members unanimously passed a resolution asking that there be no new program changes in existing programs without adequate financial support from the state.

They expressed concern over moves to switch financing of special education from the state to the local level.

Recent legislatures have enacted mandatory programs, such as elementary foreign language and state-wide testing, to be carried out by local districts without any state support, the board said. The state also has reduced its share for education of the physically handicapped and transportation reimbursement, said board members.

These actions "have resulted in an ever increasing burden on the already inadequate local property tax base," the resolution stated.

The Marin County Board of Education also:

1. Set for Sept. 23 at 8 p.m. at the Civic Center a special meeting to hear a report from Odell, MacConnell Associates of Palo Alto on a six-month study of vocational education in Marin.
2. Agreed that the board will occasionally conduct meetings away from the Civic Center, possibly at the Family Rehabilitation Center, a rural school or in the Sausalito School District.
3. Voted to contribute $500 toward the salary of an intergroup relations consultant who will serve the Mill Valley and Sausalito school districts in their integregation program for approximately 20 days. The school districts will share in the salary costs.
4. Approved an occupational training program for trainable mentally retarded minors which will enable students at Magnolia Park School to continue in training until the age of 21 instead of having to stop at the age of 18.
5. Approved paying $100 for annual membership in the Norththern California Industry Education Council.
6. Received a report that there will be a class for trainable mentally retarded children at Meadow Park School at Hamilton Air Force Base.
7. Hired Mrs. Dearesteen Douglas as teacher at Loma Alta School (juvenile hall); Jackson Austin, guidance consultant; Betty Brandon, guidance consultant, half-time, on contract to the Sausalito School District and Thomas Stoddard, teacher, Loma Alta School.
8. Accepted the resignation of Mrs. Beatrice Duke, assistant in the kindergarten for mentally retarded, and hired Athens Getas for the job at $362 a month.
9. Hired Joan Ham as children's assistant, trainable mentally retarded, $362 a month; Janice Cochran as intermediate stenographer, $362, Lovey Jo Wolfe as senior stenographer, $399, and Walter Falkenberry as audio-visual technician, half-time, $209.50.

County Board Sticks To 'No-Names' Policy

The Marin County Board of Education is going to appoint a member of the Bolinas-Stinson Union School District Board, but will not release the names of candidates.

The district board deadlocked 2-2 on naming a successor to former trustee Irving E. Levine and asked the county board to fill the vacancy.

Although the names of four candidates have been published, the county board agreed last night to stick to its "no-names" policy until a selection is made.

Bolinas-Stinson trustees split with two trustees voting for Mrs. Roberta Shockey of Stinson Beach. Other candidates for the post were Edith Sarraille and John Barrow of Bolinas.

County board members agreed that a three-member committee will interview candidates. If it is legal, the committee will report to the board in executive session, said board chairman James A. Carroll. If not, it will report in open session and "give one name," he said.

The board used this system earlier this year in filling a vacancy of its own, appointing Lee C. Richardson Jr. of Inverness to succeed Ben Roark Jr.

Sounding Board To Explore Use Of Courthouse

The future of the courthouse property in downtown San Rafael will be discussed on the Radio KTIM "Marin Sounding Board" tomorrow from 9 to 10 a.m.

Speakers will be County Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen; Robert Ritter, president of the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce; Mrs. Florence Donnelly, a founder and director of the Marin Historical Society, and Robert Eklund, a building designer.

Questions telephoned by listeners will be directed to the speakers by Kitty Oppenheimer, the program conductor.

San Rafael Council Rejects Freitas Parkway Subdivision

The San Rafael City Council by 3-1 vote last night served notice it will no approve a subdivision abbutting Freitas Parkway without provision for extension of the parkway.

The council went farther than the planning commission,which had refused to approve the tentative map of Alameda Homes' 26-lot Terra Linda Subdivision 24 without inclusion of improvement of half of the Parkway extension past its edge. The council turned down the map entirely, and held that the subdivision of Freitas lands creating the portion which became Terra Linda Unit 24 was also subject to city approval.

Dissenting was Councilman Harry A. Barmier, who said he agreed with Walter Freitas and his council, E. Warren McGuire, that John Kenny of Alameda Homes should not be penalized because of the dispute over the parkway extension. Councilman Louis H. Baar was absent.

Freitas and McGuire repeated contentions made before the planning commission that it is up to the city to complete the parkway extension.

Councilman Charles W. Aby, who moved the turndown, said he agreed "the time has come for some sort of understanding as to how the balance of Freitas Parkway should be taken care of." But he said he did not propose to allow development along its edge which would trap the city into improving the street at public cost.

Narcotics Addict Treatment Ordered

Thomas Haskell Thompson, Jr., 18, who pleaded guilty in Marin Superior Court to car theft Aug. 2, was ordered by Judge Thomas F. Keating yesterday to be committed indefinitely at California Rehabilitation Center in Corona for treatment as a narcotics addict.

Thompson, of 1015 Meadowsweet Drive, Corte Madera, took the car of Shirley Cummensky in Sausalito on May 17.

Academy Entering Its 76th Year

School Board Aide Gets Rough Going

A representative of the California School Boards Assn. ran into heavy fire from Marin school trustees last night at a meeting of the Marin County Board of Education.

Trustees and board members sharply questioned Robert Formhals, executive secretary of the association, about the association's policies and operation.

Mrs. Gloria Melbostad of the Tamalpais High School District Board wanted to know why the district's dues were doubled this year from $400 to $800, "and why we have never received any explanation where the money goes."

Formhals said the increase came because Tam District moved into a new category on the dues schedule. He said the increase in dues provides increased service.

Mrs. Joyce R. Gross, president of the Mill Valley School District Board, wanted to know why the board's letters to the association weren't answered.

Formhals said "two or three of your letters were directed to the president of the association" and would be answered by him.

Mrs. Adele Alpers said she was concerned that the administration of the association was largely representative of small schools and represents their point of view in Sacramento.

Trustee Earl Koehler of Dixie School District wondered how much effect the association had on legislation.

"Right now, I'd say we're rather effective," Formhals replied. "Now, I'm asked for opinions, where five years ago we weren't asked."

Knifing Death Trial Scheduled

Jury trial for Armando G. Sanchez, 33, charged in the April 23 knifing death of a San Quentin prison shop foreman, was scheduled in Marin Superior Court yesterday for Nov. 15.

Sanchez, an inmate at the prison, allegedly killed Ralph Canning, 54, of Oakland, with malice aforethought. Conviction of the suspect, now serving a life sentence, carries a mandatory death penalty.

The indictment charges assault rather than first degree murder of the civilian victim because the latter charge leaves an alternative of life sentence with parole possibility after nine years, Dist. Atty. Bruce Bales said.

Teachers, Textile Workers Go On Strike

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (UPI) — More than 4,500 Congolese textile workers and 400 teachers went on strike yesterday to back up demands for higher pay.

The textile strike brought work to a stop at one of the Congo's biggest mills, "Texleo." The teachers' strike partially interrupted the reopening of schools after the summer holidays.

Transcript Of Jury Hearing On Wolden Lists Fees For 'Services'

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A transcript of a grand jury's hearing alleged that San Francisco Assessor Russell L. Wolden collected fees for "services" in Alameda and San Mateo counties and for lower tax assessments in San Francisco.

The transcript of the hearing that resulted in Wolden's Sept. 2 indictment on nine counts of accepting bribes and one of conspiracy was made public yesterday when it was filed in San Francisco Superior Court.

contained in the jury report was testimony that payments were made to people associated with Wolden by several tax consulting firms besides the firm headed by James C. Tooke of Castro Valley.

It was the disclosures from Tooke's files by Norman Phillips, a former associate, that initiated inquiries into assessing practices in San Francisco and other California counties.

Payments in cash were turned over the Wolden, testified Max J. Newstat, personal property auditor in Wolden's office.

"I had my orders," he said.

When payments were by checks, they went to Morris Bernstein, San Francisco financier, store executive, fire commission member and Wolden's campaign treasurer, he said.

Newstat said he received as much as $3,500 in cash in payments in San Francisco, Los Angeles, and Chicago.

Newstat described a $3,500 payment by Minneapolis Honeywell, represented by Chicago tax consultant Paul Eckley. Asked what he had done to justify the payment, Newstat said:

"I didn't do anything," Newstat said. "I made the assessment . . . after discussion with the assessor."

As a result the firm's tax bill was cut in half, he said.

Armour & Co. paid $500 a year and had its assessment halved, Newstat testified. A $1,000 cash payment to Wolden by George Picetti, executive in a produce firm, came after the firm's $7,000 tax bill was cut to $3,500, the grand jury was told.

"I thought it was a good deal," he told the jury.

Testimony about Alameda and San Mateo counties came from Tooke. He said he paid 25 per cent of his Alameda county fees by check at Wolden's orders to Ralph A. Yeo of San Mateo, former chief regional counsel for the Bureau of Internal Revenue.

Tooke was questioned about a payment listed in his books as the Milens Jewelry account, covering only the firm's East Bay stores.

Tooke was asked why Yeo billed him for 25 per cent of his fee.

"The account was referred to me by Mr. Wolden," he replied. "He wanted me to know what the fee was. And normal reference fees, if you can manage it that way, should never exceed 25 per cent in the industry. In this case, he was given 25 per cent of the fee that I earned in Alameda County."

Shooting Widow Sues Policemen

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The widow of a man who was fatally shot by police has filed an $801,800 wrongful death suit against the city and two officers.

John S. Grudt, 55, a film studio carpenter, was shot to death last Feb. 24 when he allegedly disregarded a police order t stop his car.

Mrs. Grudt, 51, of Sun Valley, seeks $600,000 in general damages, $200,000 in punitive damages and $1,800 for burial expenses.

The policemen who shot Grudt, Carl D. Kilgo and William L. Reinhart, were in plain clothes when they tried to stop Grudt for questioning. The incident triggered a controversy over police use of firearms.

Lions Chicken Barbecue Set

The Mill Valley Lions Club will have its 10th annual chicken barbecue starting at 1 p.m. and continuing to dark, Sunday, in Boyle Park.

Funds realized go to support various charitable activities of the club.

The Burgermeister German Band will play at the family-type event and there will be games and concessions, mainly for children, according to president Ernest Sanders. Joe Canet, retired Mill Valley police captain, will be head chef, a traditional job.

Battery Stolen

Today is Wednesday Sept. 8, the 251st day of 1965 with 114 to follow.

The moon is approaching its full phase. The morning stars are Jupiter and Saturn. The evening stars are Venus, Mars, and Saturn.

U.S. Sen. Robert A. Taft was born on this day in 1889.

On this day in history:

In 1565, the first permanent settlement of what is now the continental U.S. was founded at St. Augustine, Fla.

A Thought For The Day — Gen. Douglas MacArthur said: "It is fatal to enter any war without the will to win it."

Hard Kernel Not For Meal

LIBERAL, Kan. (AP)—Lelyn Batt was happy with the first batch of corn from his gardens as he sat down to a meal that included the home-grown corn.

Then his teeth vibrated as he bit into a piece of metal in the corn.

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Defeat Opponents Before You Relax When Playing

There's nothing dangerous about leading an ace-king-queen suit against declarer.

Opening lead — ♡ K

West opened the king of hearts and continued with the queen, feeling sure that it was safe to lead such a strong suit. The lead was so safe that it gave South his contract.

SECOND HEART

South ruffed the second heart and led a trump to force out the ace. East returned a trump for lack of anything better to do, and South won.

Declarer tried a diamond finesse, losing to the queen, and the defense was then at the end of the road.

The king of diamonds was sure to show up on the next round of the suit, and South had no further problem.

SUPPORT SHOWN

West had every reason to know that South would ruff the second heart. East's jump to three hearts showed four-card support, which left only one heart for South to hold. Leading a second heart meant relinquishing control of the play to declarer.

West could see that his king of diamonds was useless unless his partner had the queen.

But if East did have the queen of diamonds prompt action might lead to a diamond ruff.

GOES TO SLEEP

At the second trick West should lead the king of diamonds instead of going to sleep with a second round of hearts. Declarer wins in dummy with the ace of diamonds and leads a trump.

Now East must step up at once with the ace of trumps to take the queen of diamonds and lead a third diamond while West still has a trump. West ruffs, defeating the contract.

The time to relax is when you have the setting trick safely stashed away.

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid one diamond, not one spade.

There is very little advantage in opening with a weak 4-card major suit when you have another biddable suit.

Served Self To Diesel Fuel

Her husband was driving a truck load of melons to Canada at the time and she speculated he ran low on fuel.

HUEY LONG
Killed 30 years ago

RUSSELL B. LONG
Son is now a senator

ANNIVERSARY

Senator Long Recalls Father

(EDITOR'S NOTE — Thirty years ago today, Kingfish Huey Long was shot down by an assassin in the Louisiana state Capitol. Russell B. Long, his son who was 16 at the time, is now assistant Democratic Senate leader. In this exclusive interview, Sen. Long gives his views on his father's political career and on circumstances surrounding the assassination).

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF

WASHINGTON (AP) — Thirty years after an assassin's bullet struck down Kingfish Huey Long, "we've not only done most of what he advocated but we've even gone beyond it," says his son, Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La.

The flamboyant Kingfish, whose controversial "share the wealth" politics carried him from the backwoods of northern Louisiana to the U.S. Senate, was shot Sept. 8, 1935, in Louisiana's 32-story state Capitol building at Baton Rouge. He died two days later.

"No one should be too rich and no one too poor" was the way he felt, the senator said in an interview. Sixteen at the time his father was assassinated, he is now assistant Democratic leader of the Senate.

Welfare programs, government construction of highways and hospitals, abolition of poll taxes, and free education are just some of Huey Long's programs that have long since become law, the senator said, adding that the Social Security and welfare benefits go beyond what he envisioned.

"President Johnson has said he used to come over to the Senate and listen to Huey Long speak," the senator added, noting that a large part of the President's education and anti-poverty programs bear marked similarity to the Kingfish's ideas.

There have been differences, too. "We've tried to help people own their own homes," he said. "He tried to give it to them debt free."

Much of what Long did was extremely controversial. He was impeached by the state Assembly within a year of taking office as governor. But he lined up enough state senators behind him — the charges were due to be tried by the Senate — so the trial never took place.

When Huey Long refused to resign as governor upon election as senator, opponents accused him of being a dictator. He finally left the governorship a year later after his close friend, O. K. Allen, had been elected governor.

After Long's death, many of his associates, including Richard Leche who had been elected governor on the Long ticket in 1936, were sent to jail on various charges including fraud and income tax evasion in what became known as the "Louisiana scandals."

The Kingfish made no secret of his many relatives on the state pay roll, contending they deserved it because "they were among my political supporters of longest and most arduous service."

"By any objective standards," the senator contends, "he was the best governor Louisiana ever had. He was a doer, and he was enormously popular with the people."

"Many people have told me," Long said, "that they consider Huey oLng responsible for Social Security.

"They think (President Franklin D.) Roosevelt became interested in it because he needed something to build a backfire against some of the headway Huey Long was making.

"He never told me he was planning to run for president but as a politician I could see all the signs," Sen. Long said.

"I think he figured as a third party candidate he'd run well to the left of Roosevelt and pull enough votes away from Roosevelt that the Republicans would win. Then, in four years, he'd be the Democratic candidate and would be elected.

"A lot of wealthy Republicans would have helped him. They wanted to beat Roosevelt so badly they would have helped Huey Long even though they might have created a Frankenstein. They certainly didn't agree with anything Huey Long was for.

"I just don't know if he ever would have been elected," the senator said.

At the time of his assassination, Huey Long was only 42. Like his life, Long's death stirred controversy. The alleged assassin, Dr. Carl Weiss, was shot to death by Long's bodyguards within seconds of the Kingfish's assassination and some have accused them of shooting the senator.

"There's no doubt in the world" that Weiss did it, the senator said.

In the two days that he lay dying, Long said, his father asked his doctors: "I don't know why that boy did that. Who is he? Why did he do it?"

The senator says the main reason he knows is that the judicial district which Weiss' father-in-law represented on the State Supreme Court had been redistricted, forcing the judge to retire rather than face almost certain defeat. Of the idea that Weiss feared Long might accuse the family of having Negro blood, the senator said: "My father had no such idea and never cared about that."

Twenty years after Long died, his son said, a poll showed half the persons questioned regarded him as the greatest governor in the state's history. His political heirs, meanwhile, have continued to dominate the state's politics, which have generally matched the ongs against the anti-Longs.

Innocent Plea In Molest Case

An innocent plea to molesting a 6-year-old girl was entered in Marin Superior Court yesterday by Emmett Dexter Nelson, 44. July trial was scheduled for Nov. 8.

Nelson, 78 Spindrift Passage, Corte Madera, is charged with lewd and lascivious behavior with the girl last July 5 at Albert Field, San Rafael.

"Tomesha", meaning "Ground Afire", was the Indian name for Death Valley.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

VAN DELLEN

The gall bladder is a sac that concentrates and stores bile. When fatty foods are eaten, the organ contracts and squirts the digestant into the intestine. The structure is not absolutely essential, considering the millions of healthy persons who have had the organ removed. The liver continues to manufacture bile regardless of whether the gall bladder is in or out.

Where does bile go when its storehouse is eliminated? The duct that extends from the liver to the intestine enlarges to take over this function.

IT HAS BEEN SAID that half of our population over age 40 has evidene of gall bladder disease. Only a small percentage have attacks of mild indigestion and the rest go through life without knowing the organ is abnormal unless gall bladder X-rays are made.

Stones develop and, by age 60, almost 50 per cent of the women and 25 per cent of the men have one to 100 of these rocks. Nowadays, more and more gall bladder X-rays are done and stones are found frequently.

SURGERY IS recommended when symptoms are present. Many surgeons believe gall bladders with stones should be removed, even when the organ is not causing distress. They do this because they know that the chance of having trouble within six years is good. Operation is easier and safer when the organ is in a quiet or noninflammatory stage. If removal is deferred until the individual is older, complications are more likely with each passing decade. But some are willing to take the chance and it is surprising how many live to a ripe old age without a smidgen of discomfort.

The decision is more difficult when the person with gall stones also has symptoms that may originate from a nearby organ or from emotional origins. In such instances, the surgeon may suggest removal but he makes it clear that the operation will not relieve symptoms caused by other disorders.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics by mail if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

DETERIORATED DISK

F. P. A. writes: Please explain what is meant by a deteriorated or small disk? Would a person born with a small disk be deformed or have pain?

REPLY

The disk is the cushion between the vertebrae. Deterioration leads to pain, especially when the flattened disk protrudes and presses upon nerve tissue. Birth deformities of the spine are rarely due to a small disk.

MEDITERRANEAN ANEMIA

T. DeL. writes: I would like to know about Cooley's anemia.

REPLY

This hereditary anemia occurs most frequently in those whose ancestors came from countries bordering on the Mediterranean Sea. Some victims never develop symptoms, whereas others have all of the manifestations of severe anemia with enlargement of the spleen and liver. Removal of the spleen is the best remedy.

FLATFOOT

A reader writes: Is there an operation to correct flat feet?

REPLY

Yes, depending upon the severity of flatfoot (pes valgoplanus). The majority can be corrected with pads and leather bars but surgery may be needed when the deformity is of the rigid type.

IT FAVORS THE YOUNG

M. M. writes: Can schizophrenia develop for the first time in middle life?

REPLY

Yes, but the majority of victims develop the condition a decade or more earlier.

PERIPHERAL NEURITIS

REPLY

No. Peripheral refers to the extremities. On the other hand, certain poisons could cause both.

MENSTRUAL CRAMPS

C. J. writes: I am 13 years old and have very bad cramps when I menstruate. Do you recommend anything to cure this pain?

REPLY

There are several good analgesics that relieve pain. A hot water bottle is an old stand-by. Send a stamped, self-adressed envelope for leaflet on menstrual irregularities.

IT SPREADS

B. H. writes: What is creeping thyroiditis?

REPLY

Thyroiditis that begins in one lobe and ultimately spreads to the entire gland. Infection may have subsided in one section of the thyroid by the time another part is involved.

BONN—When West Germany's Communist Party was outlawed and declared unconstitutional nine years ago, critics of the court edict warned that the party would go underground and be harder to control.

"Nonsense," said Gerhard Schroeder, then the Federal Republic's Interior Minister and the man primarily responsible for obtaining the court decree. "The CP is like an iceberg. You see the 10 per cent of it that's above surface. The other 90 per cent is underwater, hidden from view anyway."

Now, on the ninth anniversary of this Supreme Court decision, the question of the prudence of the move has again captured the spotlight in West Germany. A number of prominent politicians have spoken out for legalizing the Communist Party again.

On the other hand, Hermann Hoecherl, the present Interior Minister, has just issued an optimistic report on the successful effort to keep the party under surveillance.

Within the Interior Ministry itself, however, there are security officials who wonder whether outlawing the party was such a good idea.

"It was better to see 10 per cent of the iceberg and know 90 per cent of it was there too, than not to see it at all and not to know what's under the surface," says one agent.

Those opposed to restoring the party's legality argue that practically all discussion about the subject was kindled by the party's underground members and East German propagandists.

Whether this is true or not, the fact remains that one of the most outspoken proponents for lifting the ban has been Dr. Franz Meyers, the Christian Democratic Prime Minister (Governor) of the state of Northrhine-Westphalia, in whose industrial centers the German CP, legal and illegal, has been most active.

"Personally," Meyers said recently, "I prefer a visible to an invisible opponent. I can watch the visible one better."

Opponents argue that "if we legalize the CP we will also have to lift the ban on the Socialist Reich Party." The latter is a powerful neo-Nazi organization declared unconstitutional in 1952.

As a political organization in the parliamentary sense of the word, the West German Communist Party is certainly dead. Its leaders have all moved out to reach to East Germany where they head a totally ineffective central committee and hold occasional conventions. Its illegal membership is estimated at 7,000 by German security agencies. That is 10 per cent of the party's membership at the time it was banned.

TELEVISION REVIEW

Program On Policy Good But Too Long

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—I have been in training for the past week for last night's three-and-a-half-hour NBC-TV special about American foreign policy. Nine hours sleep. Three square meals each day, strictly regulated. Daily swims. Light afternoon workouts.

Three-and-a-half hours is, to put it mildly, an extraordinary length for a television documentary, particularly a heavy one that makes heavy demands on the viewer. I think it was an enormous accomplishment to old one's interest as long as it did, but in all honesty—though one does not like to pick at such an endeavor—I cannot believe that most truthful viewers will deny it exhausted them, a state not conducive to peak interest.

I found myself getting rather foggy after about two-and-a-half hours, and was astounded frankly at the skill of the program — "American White Paper? U.S. Foreign Policy"—in making even that large chunk of the special move by so swiftly. I held on to the end, however, because the culmination of the broadcast was the tracing of how the past 20 years of our foreign policy led to our eventual involvement in the Dominican Republic and Viet Nam, and I was not at all bored, merely weary. One grieves for the government employees who might have tuned in to learn what our foreign policy is, only to fail to hold out.

There can, of course, be no gainsaying the splendid notion of the unprecedented broadcast, and nothing but the highest admiration for those involved in it. Particularly, since most of the material was by no means new, one appreciated the tremendously skillful editing that made the program's points and kept it moving at a good pace.

One also appreciated the great amounts of pictorial material employed, which made the interviews easier to take over the long run, and especially the films of the more basic human effects of policy.

Still, it should be recalled that the purpose of a communications effort is, after all, to communicate as effectively as possible. And one wonders why—since 20 years of foreign policy cannot really be summarized in three-and-a-half hours anyway — the program could not have been done in a bit less. Even better, why not have expanded it to, say, five hours, and showed it for an hour each night for a week, that is, Monday through Friday? CBS-TV recently presented four one-hour broadcasts about the Viet Nam situation.

Again: The program will get, and deserve, much praise. It was undeniably something special, if not overly original or stylish. Yet even a show that has one eye on the awards, on high-echelon praise and on a place in library files should not allow anything to diminsh its overall impact on the basic audence for which it is intended.

Increase In Steel Prices Doubted

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Johnson administration does not expect an increase in steel prices to follow the labor settlement in the industry, an informed source said today.

The high level of steel imports—now at a record figure of more than 10 million tons a year—was cited as a major reason the steel companies would hesitate to raise prices.

Any higher costs for American - made steel presumably would allow even more lower-priced foreign steel to be sold in this country, an administration official said.

NOT A SCHOOL

Child Center Is Voted Down

The city council last night by unanimous vote reversed planning commission grant of a use permit for Johnnie Bunch to operate a day nursery in the old building.

Mayor C. Paul Bettini and Councilman Fred E. Jensen agreed with Max Thelen Jr., attorney for protesting property owners, that what Bunch proposed is not a school—the use for which a permit was granted.

Councilman Harry A. Barbier agreed with Dr. Orville F. Grimes of 1660 Grand Avenue and Merle Greenblatt of 23 Grand Court, who stressed that the proposed use was contrary to character of the neighborhood and would cause a traffic problem.

Councilman Charles W. Aby said he was so confused he didn't know how to vote, so "you'll just have to put me with the majority." Councilman Louis H. Baar was absent.

Bunch, who now has a Kiddieland center at 223 Belle Avenue, proposed to use the old Coleman School initially for 125 2-to-10-year-olds, increasing the number to 300 or more.

Attorney John Bernt, who spoke for Bunch (and for himself as one of the owners of the property), said the property can accommodate up to 400 children and meet state standards for a nursery.

Dr. Grimes, in speaking against the permit, said "several non-profit groups have already expressed an interest in this property." If none of them buys it, he said, "those of us living in the area feel so strongly that we would pool our resources to purchase it ourselves."

Bernt said the property, which was purchased from the county by him and his law partners William T. Bagley and Albert Bianchi, had been on the market 18 months and Bunch's offer was the first received for it. Since then, however, there have been other inquiries, he said.

Councilman Jensen noted that the use permit application was for a "day nursery" but the planning commission approved the permit on the basis of a school. He noted also that the building had been condemned for public school use.

"To my way of thinking, this isn't a school, and I'm acquainted with schools," said Bettini, who served 10 years on the board of education before being elected mayor last April.

Te council chamber was packed when the hearing on Bunch's application opened. It was virtually emptied immediately after the council turndown.

Sheriff Asks Car Controls

Marin County Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos yesterday asked supervisors to reconsider an ordinance adopted last week that will bring use of county cars under strong control of the county administrator.

The county has been operating with a policy that leaves regulation largely up to department heads.

Mountanos said he has many special situations where deputies and investigators use county cars in their work. He was concerned that the administrator might not approve of deputies stopping in a county car for breakfast or early morning coffee when reporting on an early patrol.

Supervisors assured Mountanous this would be permitted and that he could expect County Administrator Alan Bruce to enforce the new ordinance in a reasonable manner.

Soviets Hit Back On Newsman Tax

MOSCOW (UPI)—The Soviet Union, angry over a state tax levied on Russian newsmen in New York, announced yesterday it will raise the taxes of all American correspondents in Moscow.

Most American correspondents here are already in the top Soviet income tax bracket and pay the maximum 13.5 per cent.
